giacomo leopardi 1798 1837 and percy bysshe shelley 1792 1822 crossed paths during their lifetimes and though they never met the legacy of their work betrays a shared destiny as prominent figures who challenged and contributed to the romantic debate leopardi and shelley hold important roles in the history of their respective national literatures but paradoxically experienced a controversial and delayed reception outside their native lands cerimonia s wide ranging study brings together these two poets for the first time for an exploration of their afterlives through a close reading of hitherto unstudied translations this intriguing journey tells the story from its origins of the two poets critical fortune and examines their position in the cultural debates of the nineteenth century in disputes regarding translation theories and practices and shows the configuration of their identities as we understand their legacy today giacomo leopardi was the greatest italian poet of the nineteenth century and was recognized by readers from nietzsche to beckett as one of the towering literary figures in italian history to many he is the finest italian poet after dante leopardi was also a prodigious scholar of classical literature and philosophy and a voracious reader in numerous ancient and modern languages for most of his writing career he kept an immense notebook known as the zibaldone or hodgepodge as harold bloom has called it in which he put down his original wide ranging radically modern responses to his reading his comments about religion philosophy language history anthropology astronomy literature poetry and love are unprecedented in their brilliance and suggestiveness and the zibaldone which was only published at the turn of the twentieth century has been recognized as one of the foundational books of modern culture its 4 500 plus pages have never been fully translated into english until now when a team led by michael caesar and franco d intino of the leopardi centre in birmingham have spent years producing a lively accurate version this essential book will change our understanding of nineteenth century culture giacomo leopardi 1798 1837 italy s first and greatest modern poet was also a critic philosopher and philologist his enormous zibaldone or philosophical and critical notebook which many consider one of the great books of the 19th century was published in penguin classics in 2013 this book traces the life of giacomo leopardi by examining four different yet interrelated aspects his social origins and class in relation to his evolving conception of nobility the mixture of idealism and misogyny in his attitude toward women and in his conception of love his poems and prose on the theme of italian independence and his philosophical materialism as expressed in his poetry intellectual diary and essays frank rosengarten pays particular attention to the ways in which the thought of arthur schopenhauer and friedrich nietzsche illuminates leopardi s world view he also devotes a section of the book to the different personal moral and philological components of leopardi s humanism throughout he maintains a sharp focus on the connections between leopardi s life and the historical period in which he lived the major themes and human concerns expressed in leopardi s writings relate to his life experiences and to the historical period in which he lived of central interest are nobility and love since leopardi s perception of these two themes evolved and changed as he acquired a more general and universal conception of life this fascinating combination of classical and modern perspectives on life and literature is highlighted throughout the book this companion covers charles wright s first two trilogies country music 1982 and the world of the ten thousand things 1990 providing biographical details information on wright s sources and influences and historical notes it pays special attention to the way that wright s poems work together and the links that are formed between them while each poem is given its own commentary the author argues that they work together in a concentrated whole to document a man's spiritual journey andrea del verrocchio was the preeminent sculptor in late fifteenth century florence and one of the leading artists in renaissance europe in every genre of statuary verrocchio made formal and conceptual contributions of the greatest significance and many of his sculptures such as the christ and st thomas and the colleoni monument are among the masterpieces of renaissance art a favorite artist of lorenzo de medici and the teacher of leonardo da vinci verrocchio was a key link between the innovations of the fifteenth century and the creations of the high renaissance this beautiful catalogue raisonné is the first comprehensive and detailed study of verrocchio's extraordinary and innovative sculptures andrew butterfield has combined careful visual analysis of the sculptures with groundbreaking research into their function iconography and historical context in order to explain verrocchio's contributions to the different genres of renaissance sculpture butterfield provides new and important information on a broad range of issues such as the typology and social history of florentine tombs the theoretical problems in the production of perspectival reliefs and the origins of the figura serpentinata furthermore butterfield draws on a spectrum of often overlooked texts to elucidate fundamental iconographical problems for example the significance of david in quattrocento florence in its scope depth and clarity the sculptures of andrea del verrocchio will rank as one of the finest studies of an italian sculptor ever published
