giacomo leopardi was the greatest italian poet of the nineteenth century and was recognized by readers from nietzsche to beckett as one of the towering literary figures in italian history to many he is the finest italian poet after dante leopardi was also a prodigious scholar of classical literature and philosophy and a voracious reader in numerous ancient and modern languages for most of his writing career he kept an immense notebook known as the zibaldone or hodgepodge as harold bloom has called it in which he put down his original wide ranging radically modern responses to his reading his comments about religion philosophy language history anthropology astronomy literature poetry and love are unprecedented in their brilliance and suggestiveness and the zibaldone which was only published at the turn of the twentieth century has been recognized as one of the foundational books of modern culture its 4 500 plus pages have never been fully translated into english until now when a team led by michael caesar and franco d intino of the leopardi centre in birmingham have spent years producing a lively accurate version this essential book will change our understanding of nineteenth century culture giacomo leopardi 1798 1837 italy s first and greatest modern poet was also a critic philosopher and philologist his enormous zibaldone or philosophical and critical notebook which many consider one of the great books of the 19th century was published in penguin classics in 2013

this book traces the life of giacomo leopardi by examining four different yet interrelated aspects his social origins and class in relation to his evolving conception of nobility the mixture of idealism and misogyny in his attitude toward women and in his conception of love his poems and prose on the theme of italian independence and his philosophical materialism as expressed in his poetry intellectual diary and essays frank rosengarten pays particular attention to the ways in which the thought of arthur schopenhauer and friedrich nietzsche illuminates leopardi s world view he also devotes a section of the book to the different personal moral and philological components of leopardi s humanism throughout he maintains a sharp focus on the connections between leopardi s life and the historical period in which he lived the major themes and human concerns expressed in leopardi s writings relate to his life experiences and to the historical period in which he lived of central interest are nobility and love since leopardi s perception of these two themes evolved and changed as he acquired a more general and universal conception of life this fascinating combination of classical and modern perspectives on life and literature is highlighted throughout the book
