study with reference to the three districts of munshiganj tangail and noākhāli in bangladesh the politics of empowerment of banyarwanda refugees in uganda 1959 2001 introduces empowerment discourse to the nexus between politics security and forced migration and refugees conceptualized as a group process where people who lack their share of valued resources strive to gain greater access to and control over those resources empowerment of banyarwanda refugees was possible through a protracted struggle the book explores how the banyarwanda refugees achieved reasonable levels of integration in ugandan society because of similar demographics social economic and cultural characteristics with the ugandan population in the areas they settled had the ugandan state not broken down in the late 1970s and 1980s these refugees would have perhaps acquired naturalization a veritable form of empowerment in contrast although most hutu and tutsi refugees achieved meaningful levels of integration as some were treated badly and abused with derogatory language their leaders and some of the elites never gave up the dream of returning home the book concludes that violent conflicts emerge because of a violation of human rights and denial of access to scarce resources and rwanda and africa as a whole must build institutions that allow popular participation in decision making transfer of political power from one group or generation to the other and generally to address the question of democracy and good governance empowerment has become a well used term across a wide variety of social work settings that involve dealing with people and their problems but is it a central part of good practice or an empty word and what of power it is a central theme of human services practice but like empowerment is often only loosely examined this book examines both the theory and practice of power and empowerment this provocative book develops empowerment theory in the context of community mediation schwerin uses a case study of a large urban community mediation program to explore the empowerment concept and to assess widely believed hypotheses about empowerment and community mediation the major contributions of this work to transformational politics and the community mediation movement include the development and elaboration of empowerment theory the analysis of mediation ideology mediation training and mediation process and the exploration of the linkage between community mediation and personal and social transformation an estimated 13 18 million people die from hunger malnutrition and poverty related causes every year this book draws on the lessons of the grameen bank in bangladesh to explore the process of managing poverty alleviation programmes that make a lasting difference in the lives of the poor planning and control in management literature offer systems that can be used to explore participation empowerment centralization and decentralization she suggests that development projects can never be participatory and empowering unless their management is itself participatory and empowering people and has a repayment rate of over 98 successfully combines a centrally defined vision with a decentralized and participatory manner of execution its framework of shared vision and values has not only enabled borrower members to be brought into decision making roles but also motivates a large and widely dispersed field staff
