this book is address to the students of gap and ade degrees it contains the two following subjects contracts and companies gap and commercial law ade and it adjusts perfectly to the requirements of its study exigences 100 that is the reason why it follows an unusual order among mercantilists since it brings together content that usually appears in different volumes thus students will have in their hands all the theoretical content of the subject and it will be essential for them whether they follow the subject physically attending classes or remotely through the virtual modality of the gap degree the study plans for these degrees have minimal legal content i would even say ridiculous at gap they do study law in other subjects but only public law never private that is why the manual begins with an introductory topic 1 on the historical origin and concept of commercial law the topic is explained at length because it is essential and would not be understood otherwise topic 2 on the concept

the rules presented in this volume of the principles of european law deal with sales contracts the sales contact has served as the paradigm for contracts in general moreover it is also probably the most common contract and certainly the most common consumer contract that there is in fact sales come in all shapes and sizes ranging from the purchase of the daily newspaper at the news stand or the groceries in the supermarket through to the purchase of a new car and to commodity sales on highly specialised markets furthermore there are many mixed transactions that contain a certain element of sale such as distribution contracts or all sorts of manufacturing contracts this volume of the aida europe research series on insurance law and regulation focuses on transparency as the guiding principle of modern insurance law it consists of chapters written by leaders in the respective field who address transparency in a range of civil and common law jurisdictions along with overview chapters each chapter reviews the transparency principles applicable in the jurisdiction discussed whether expressly or impliedly all jurisdictions recognize a duty on the part of the insured to make a fair presentation of the risk when submitting a proposal for cover to the insurers although there is little consensus on the scope of that duty disputed matters in this regard include whether it is satisfied by honest answers to express questions or whether there is a spontaneous duty of disclosure whether facts relating to the insured's character as opposed to the nature of the risk itself are to be presented to the insurers the role of insurance intermediaries in the placement process and the remedy for breach of duty transparency is however a much wider concept potential policyholders are in principle entitled to be made aware of the key terms of coverage and to be warned of hidden traps such as conditions precedent average clauses and excess provisions but there are a range of different approaches some jurisdictions have adopted a soft law approach using codes of practice for pre contract disclosure while other jurisdictions employ the rather nebulous duty of utmost good faith leaving aside placement transparency is also demanded after the policy has been incepted the insured is required to be transparent during the claims process there is less consistency in national legislation regarding the implementation of transparency by insurers in the context of handling claims
