what motivates practice of the liturgy and sacramental rites of the church does the worship of god begin and end within each ritual enactment or does the truth and value of sacramental celebration reside in the broader context of christian life in church and society for more than two decades prominent jesuit sacramental liturgical theologian bruce morrill has explored the promise and problems inherent in the second vatican council's call to renew liturgy's basic purpose namely the glorification of god and the sanctification of people morrill s fundamental argument is that this ancient christian principle is of a piece that divine glory and human holiness are so to speak two sides of a single coin the value of liturgy and sacraments is depleted if not lost unless they function within a holistic practice of faith that seeks the upbuilding of ethical lives personal and social with numerous real life examples plus references to current sociological studies the chapters address both modern challenges to and biblical and traditional resources for the celebration of sacramental rites today the journal seeks to provide a forum to encourage serious theological thinking and articulation by pentecostals charismatics in asia to promote interaction among asian pentecostals charismatics and dialogue with other christian traditions to stimulate creative contextualization of the christian faith and to provide a means for pentecostals charismatics to share their theological reflections
