research paper undergraduate from the year 2019 in the subject environmental sciences sustainability language english abstract this paper analyses the existing laws related climate change and how they support climate action all over the world emerging trend of climate change litigation has also caught world s attention which is being categorized as the ultimate climate action the primary methodology tool used is a study of journey taken by the world to accept climate change as a concern and study of laws implemented in furtherance of this concern and conclude whether it is enough or not the instant paper contains seven chapters the first chapters outlines the gradual shift from climate change to climate action second chapter of the paper discusses the international law related climate change including climate action initiatives taken under these laws climate change litigation is discussed in the third chapter fourth and the fifth chapter of the paper outline the indian perspective and climate change litigation in india respectively the last chapter elaborates the concept of circular economy climate change and its impact are not limited to a particular region or a particular group of people some places may be more vulnerable to its effects than other places but each and every place on earth is being affected by climate change a global threat in form of global warming and climate change has been looming over our head for the past century or so climate change has been addressed and tackled by various international organizations and treaties these treaties have formed the basis of international environmental law which is still developing and requires expanding its scope the main problem with international environmental law is its lack of implementation and binding force the objective of this research paper is to find out whether the obligatory and binding nature of international law is enough to handle the increasing impacts of climate change or not several countries have included environmental law in their existing laws or devised and implemented new laws that under international obligation or good conscience aiming to preserve and protect the environment therefore the research is whether existing legal regime at the national and international level is enough to reverse the damages done to the environment and prevent further damage response to climate change has taken a shape of climate action over the years with people taking active participation in the initiatives taken across the world and binding nature
