the genesis of this essay came from the naval institute solicitation for thoughts on the current principles of war throughout my time at acsc i have given much thought to the changing nature of war and what principles should guide us in the global war on terrorism as i began to write ideas and match them with network centric warfare and the concept of fourth generation warfare i began to formulate a different opinion on their utility in short rather than conducting a research paper on those two concepts and how they have changed our warfare principles i began to scrutinize other areas that would help us achieve a lasting victory in the global war on terrorism as such i reflected on the fact that acsc discusses the role instruments of power play in conflict resolution yet no doctrine or roadmap exists that ties our governmental departments and agencies together in essence not only have our military principles of war changed but also no principle of war has been defined for the diplomatic informational or economic instruments of power during my research i scrutinized the origins of our current principles of war and lay the argument as to why they must change this paper also refutes the idea of fourth generation warfare and describes war in five dimensions the fifth dimension the mind becomes the most critical aspect of war in our generation and is critical within every instrument of power i propose a list of principles of war that should be considered within every instrument of power this work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it this work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work this work is in the public domain in the united states of america and possibly other nations within the united states you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work as a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public we appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant
