this book is the first comprehensive study to respond to the ongoing debates on political sciences fragmentation doubtful relevance and disconnect with the larger public it explores the implications of the argument that political science ought to become more topic driven more relevant and more comprehensible for lay audiences consequences would include evolving a culture of public engagement challenging tendencies toward liars rule and emphasizing the role of large themes in academic education and research the latter being identified as those areas where severe democratic erosion is occurring such as escalating income and wealth disparities pushing democracy towards plutocracy ubiquitous change triggering insecurity and aggression racist prejudice polarizing societies and counter terrorism strategies subverting civil liberties political science needs to address these pressing problems ahead of other issues by in depth research and broadly accessible public narratives including solution orientated normative notions this need provides the final justification for evolving a discipline where problems would take priority over methods and public relevance over sophisticated specialization filming in european cities explores the effort behind creating screen production locations ipek a celik rappas accounts the rising demand for original and affordable locations for screen projects due to the growth of streaming platforms as a result screen professionals are repeatedly tasked with chores such as transforming a former factory in istanbul to resemble a war zone in aleppo or finding a london street that evokes barcelona celik rappas highlights the pivotal role crew members play in transforming cities and locations into functional screen settings examining five european media capitals athens belfast berlin istanbul and paris the book delves into the overlooked aspects of location related screen labor and its ability to generate production value filming in european cities demonstrates that in its perpetual quest for authentic filming locations the screen industry extracts value from cities and neighborhoods their marginalized residents and screen labor enriching itself through this triple exploitation this book offers a unique comparative assessment of the evolution of immigration detention systems in european union member states since the onset of the refugee crisis by applying an analytical framework premised on international human rights law in assessing domestic detention regimes the book reveals the extent to which eu legislation has led to the adoption of laws and practices that may disregard fundamental rights and standards while emphasizing policies and laws adopted in response to the refugee crisis the volume also shows how these policies have evolved and in many cases grown more restrictive even as the crisis has begun to recede from the borders of many european countries to sharpen awareness of contrasting developments across the region the book's country chapters are organised into geographic sections that reveal how variations in migration pressures have in some cases resulted in contrasting detention practices even as the eu directives have sought to harmonise immigration laws a critical focus of the book are the evolving domestic norms related to grounds for detention length of detention non custodial alternatives to detention the treatment of children and conditions of detention with its systematic and comparative assessment of immigration detention regimes across the eu the book will be helpful for both academics and practitioners who seek a comprehensive guide to the evolution of one of today s more important human rights dilemmas states efforts to control global migration from de gaulle onwards france s strategic independence has been predicated on self sufficiency in modern weapons to achieve and maintain the requisite defence industrial base in the context of limited domestic orders paris sought to promote the export of its arms during the cold war this underpinned but was also an expression of france s determination to resist bipolar domination france offered customers around the world an alternative to reliance on one superpower or the other and in doing so it generated the revenue to support an extensive domestic arms industry the end of the cold war ushered in fundamental changes however western defence spending shrank and the global market was turned upside down while france s arms export policy was less affected by human rights concerns than other democracies it was not immune to pressures stemming from the consolidation of europe s defence industrial base and the increased interest of the eu in regulating the arms trade this adelphi book considers how france has responded to changing political and market circumstances in the way that it promotes and controls the export of weapons it examines the rationale for considering a liberal arms export policy as essential to french independence and the institutional arrangements that underpinned this it tracks the dramatic changes in the global arms market since 1990 in terms of demand and market competition and charts the response of the french government to these changes the book underlines how the french machinery of government as a directing force behind the defence industry has been resistant to the notion of export restraint even in the case of sales to authoritarian regimes however it argues that france now faces a dilemma over whether to continue with a long successful course or to moderate its independence through greater collaboration to bolster european integration and better compete globally cet ouvrage analyse onze discours musulmans sur la laïcité rédigés par des théologiens ou intellectuels musulmans français ou résidant en france le corpus des textes étudiés couvre la période entre 1994 et 2021 ces discours réagissent donc à des contextes de crises majeures entre l État français et l islam à propos de la laïcité notamment en lien avec l expression de l identité islamique dans les écoles depuis l affaire du foulard en 1989 et l organisation politique de l islam l auteur a tenu à prendre comme échantillons d analyse des textes produits par des entrepreneurs de discours issus de divers courants de pensée musulmane il s agit de la première étude dédiée à une analyse de fond de discours musulmans sur la laïcité aussi bien du contenu que de la rhétorique du discours l islam constitue aujourd hui un objet conflictuel dans le champ politique français il serait vecteur de repli sur soi ou l objet d instrumentalisations politiques pourtant à distance des discours globalisants présents dans l espace public et médiatique

ce livre raconte l'histoire d'un pays riche très riche notamment de son sous-sol et qui est pourtant l'un des plus pauvres et des plus endettés de la planète. Réseaux routiers, hôpitaux, écoles, adductions d'eau et d'électricité sont laissés à l'abandon, des maladies que l'on croyait éradiquées réapparaissent, on pille, on séquestre, on viole, on tue aussi. Au Congo, Brazzaville, il importe de comprendre comment on a pu en arriver là.
