increasingly as the production distribution and audience of films cross national boundaries film scholars have begun to think in terms of transnational rather than national cinema this book is positioned within the emerging field of transnational cinema and offers a groundbreaking study of the relationship between transnational cinema and ideology the book focuses in particular on the complex ways in which religion identity and cultural myths interact in specific cinematic representations of ideology author milja radovic approaches the selected films as national regional products and then moves on to comparative analysis and discussion of their transnational aspects this book also addresses the question of whether transnationalism reinforces the nation or not one of the possible answers to this question may be given through the exploration of the cinema of national states and its transnational aspects radovic illustrates the ways in which these issues represented and framed by films are transmitted beyond their nation state borders and local ideologies in which they originated and questions whether therefore one can have an understanding of transnational cinema as a platform for political dialogue work love and learning in utopia breathes new life into the age old human preoccupation with how to create a happier society with a fascinating mix of research from cross cultural psychology macro history and evolutionary biology the book gives new credibility to the advocacy of radical equality the author a psychological anthropologist argues that the negative emotions of sadness anger and fear evolved in tandem with hierarchy while happiness evolved separately and in connection to prosociality and compassion the book covers a wide range of human concerns from economics and education to media and communication to gender and sexuality it breaks new boundaries with its scope arguing that equality of love is as important and possible as is economic equality its argument is provocative yet practical and each chapter ends with concrete proposals that invite dialogue with any student of policy written in an easily accessible style this book will appeal to anyone who has ever puzzled over how our social world could be remade in particular it will be very useful to students and scholars of anthropology sociology and psychology education and extremism addresses one of the most pressing questions facing societies today how is education to respond to the challenge of extremism it argues that the implementation of new teaching techniques curricular reforms or top down changes to education policy alone cannot solve the problem of extremism in educational establishments across the world instead the authors of this thought provoking volume argue that there is a need for those concerned with radicalisation to reconsider the relationship between instrumentalist ideologies shaping education and the multiple forms of extremism that exist beginning with a detailed discussion of the complicated and contested nature of different forms of extremism including extremism of both a religious and secular nature the authors show that common assumptions in contemporary discourses on education and extremism are problematic chapters in the book provide a careful selection of pertinent and topical case studies policy analysis and insightful critique of extremist discourses taken together the chapters in the book make a powerful case for re engaging with liberal education in order to foster values of individual and social enrichment intellectual freedom criticality open mindedness flexibility and reflection as antidotes to extremist ideologies recognising recent criticisms of liberalism and liberal education the authors argue for a new understanding of liberal education that is suitable for multicultural societies in a rapidly globalising world this book is essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students with an interest in religion citizenship education liberalism secularism counter terrorism social policy muslim education youth studies and extremism it is also relevant to teacher educators teachers and policymakers civil protection and domestic security in contemporary hybrid warfare presents a comprehensive approach to civil protection and domestic security in contemporary hybrid armed conflict hybrid warfare encompasses a number of dimensions such as military political psychological cognitive space social economic informational or technological current conflicts show that hybrid warfare despite regional differences is based on a common operational framework that combines conventional and unconventional tactics targeting not only military structures but also largely targeting civilians societies all this makes threats more diffuse subtle and difficult to predict they also often take the form of networked actions and have cascading effects in which they can produce complex secondary effects affecting a range of spheres of society and key infrastructure in response to this spectrum of threats individual states need to adapt their security and civil protection systems to the type of threat involved however most existing solutions are fragmented resulting in a reduced ability to coordinate and adequately prepare civilians for hybrid threat conditions given these challenges the book establishes a common language that helps shape coherent risk management and protective mechanisms in dealing with hybrid attacks it also points in a new direction in ensuring the reliability of information provided to civilians which is crucial in a hybrid war environment where disinformation is used as one of the main tools of destabilisation drawing on theoretical knowledge and practical experiences from around the world the book provides tools to effectively respond to existing and future conflicts and hybrid wars above and beyond this bridging the gap between concrete knowledge of hybrid warfare and operational needs this book explores how public administrations public services ngos local communities and other actors play a key role in protecting the population during such non traditional armed conflicts civil protection and domestic security in contemporary hybrid warfare is a vital resource to government and civilian specialists responsible for population security and protection helping them and their civilian populations to strategise and oftentimes to individually mitigate the risk of loss of life or health as has been demonstrated in the russia ukraine conflict amidst the global resurgence of the theologia crucis theology of the cross both in academic circles and in the world of pastoral practical ministry this book explores the subject from the indian context particularly from an evangelical perspective prior to the 1997 economic crisis for around 20 years thai politics was characterized by a pluralistic political order featuring unstable coalition governments competing interests and a gradual displacement of bureaucratic and military influence by the rising power of elected politicians who in turn were closely linked to a range of business actors a major reform package was enacted in 1997 coinciding with the promulgation of a new constitution however the country s financial problems helped create the conditions for the emergence of the thai rak thai thais love thai or trt party under the leadership of thaksin shinawatra a fabulously wealthy telecommunications magnate often compared with italian premier silvio berlusconi although presenting itself as a nationalist transformative party at heart trt is little more than a vehicle for the interests and ambitions of its founder leader since winning a landslide election victory in january 2001 prime minister thaksin has exercised an extraordinary degree of personal dominance over the thai political scene the emergence of thaksin and trt has transformed thailand s electoral landscape rendering previous analyses of thai politics substantially outdated this book examines thaksin s background his business activities the emergence of thai rak thai his relationship with the military thaksin s use of rhetoric through media such as radio his wider political economy networks and the future direction of thai politics master s thesis from the year 2025 in the subject politics region usa grade 1 3 free university of berlin john f kennedy institute language english abstract the dissertation aims to reveal the root causes of institutional inequality in the us higher education system with the collapse of the american dream as the realistic background this research raises the question how is inequality institutionally constructed maintained and exacerbated in a seemingly fair and widely expanded higher education system the study focuses on the student loan system a key node as an institutional turning point in the national transition from public funding to private debt it systematically examines its mechanisms in policy design ideological discourse and class reproduction in theory the dissertation defines inequality as a structural reproduction mechanism emphasizing that the joint action of power institutions and ideology forms it based on the 3i model ideas institutions interests and introducing lobbying and rent seeking theories an analytical model for understanding institutional bias and interest solidification is constructed in terms of methods the dissertation combines process tracking case study discourse analysis and logistic regression to conduct a multi level analysis of the federal government s student loan policy from 2010 to 2024 the study finds that inequality in the us higher education system is mainly reflected in four mechanisms exclusion of public participation ideological hegemony class differentiation and the institutional lock in effects together these mechanisms constitute a structural encirclement of public resources by government and capital which conceals the true face of structural institutional inequality ultimately it points out that the inequality does not stem from the coincidental governance or policy failure instead it is the product of the inherent contradictions of the democratic capitalist system to break through the institutional dilemma the study suggests a political resistance normativity based on marx s concept of free and fully developed individuals and the reconstruction of political imagination
