we live in a world where the moment we feel pain we find ourselves surrounded by countless sedatives promising to take it away sex drugs alcohol materialism consumerism are some of the many escapes we use to distract ourselves from what hurts in our lives and some

we often pretend to be happy and put on a brave face for the world despite carrying the pain of enduring a personal struggle or adversity when we are alone that is when we fall into despair for failing to overcome the struggles that we carry silently in our hearts are we considered strong if we do not fall when life pushes us to the ground do our faith and belief tell us that we cannot let our misery affect us because as the saying goes we must bear patience in this book author liyana musfirah takes readers on a reflective journey of discovering the strength that emerges from each of our painful and scarring episodes this is the book that celebrates what god has given women the resilience to withstand emotional spiritual or even physical hardships when was the last time we really poured our feelings out to allah we have been taught that the only time we can communicate with allah is when we are making du a to him even then it comes with a set of restrictive rules that puts a barrier between allah and us the things we recite are verses that we were told to memorise but rarely do we truly talk to allah about the troubles that are weighing down our hearts because it feels awkward thus when we are down and sad we seek other means for comforting ourselves but often they offer only temporary respite we forget that true comfort lies only with allah in this book author ayesha syahira takes you on a journey of spiritual discovery of reconnecting with allah wholeheartedly the author focuses on nurturing the lifestyle of talking to allah of finding comfort by making du a to him at any time of the day from the best selling author of befriending the quran talk to allah and longing for god s closeness comes a new book that comforts the heart that is going through challenges in life by way of seeking shelter in allah s mercy when we are tested with hardship it is easy for our hearts to become swayed and see only the worst in things sometimes we even begin to treat allah with mistrust and suspicion without realising it our hearts begin to whisper things like this must be because allah is angry with us or these tests come one after another when will it end why do we think poorly of allah isn t allah s love and mercy deeper than his wrath thus in this book author ayesha syahira shares her comforting words of reflection that guides the heart to seek the mercy of allah in the face of turbulent storms in life this book contains quotes from religious people which will help you to get out of life problems about three hundred quotations are recorded in the book the quotations in this book are from 1 ismail ibn musa menk 2 nouman ali khan 3 zakir naik 4 yasmin mogahed 5 sheikh yasir qadhi 6 bilal philips 7 dalia mogahed 8 omar suleiman i hope you like my work i hope these inspiring quotes will help you in strengthening your character and will also motivate you in your depressed days at some level so many of us have experienced emptiness but very few people know why and even fewer people know how to fill that emptiness but we spend our lives trying as flawed human beings we so often cringe at our humanness we try everything to erase it we look for any way to hide from our wounds and to numb the pain but what if we didn't have to hide what if our wound became the door to a deeper understanding of ourselves and god what if every wound served a purpose and the process of healing made us stronger this life and our entire journey here is not an end in itself it is a purposeful process designed by god to shape our hearts to prepare our souls for the final meeting with him we must allow the process to refine and remake us and our wounds are a part of that process it will hurt it will seem like the end so many times but it is not the end our journey will keep going and we can rise out of our pain stronger and then in the end it won't be how we walked in the sun but how we handled the storm that will define us it won't be about how we ran it will be about how we fell and then got back up this book is about finding strength in god and in our capacity to be both human and beautiful both flawed and inspired it is a journey to the understanding that we are flawed by design so that we can find strength and beauty in relying entirely on the flawless this book is about learning why we suffer and how to stop our pain from destroying us it is a spiritual and psychological manual for healing and growth through our pain it is about finding peace and purpose no matter what we've been through in life we always have that one friend whom we turn to in times of happy and sad good or bad as muslims can that friend be our quran can the quran be the one that you turn to when you need to be uplifted comforted and are in need of answers in this book author ayesha syahira shares the journey she took when she decided to make the quran the companion she loves and trusts building a relationship with the quran cannot happen in one day it will take years it will require patience and persistence each of us will have our own personal journey of connecting with the quran and nurturing love towards the quran the steps and stories might vary from one person to another but the goal is the same to always be close to your quran before there was you long before you made your debut someone knew everything about you someone who loves you even more than me ar rahmaan ar raheem rab ul alameen from early on children are eager to understand this world and their place in it before birth beyond life are the words of a reassuring mother in simple rhyming verses she teaches her child about what happened before we were born and what happens after our time in dunya is over through this book young readers learn about allah s special plan for humanity and how much love thought and detail went into their creation it encourages young readers to have a broader view of life on earth and inspires them to keep the end in mind it tackles heavy concepts and explains them in a child appropriate manner this heart rendering book pulls at strings of our emotions the unbreakable bond between mother and child as well as allah s immeasurable love for the child praise for before birth beyond life a beautiful narrative with gorgeous illustrations and a touching message for children everywhere a wonderful addition to the world of muslim children s literature na ima b robert author of ramadan moon editor sister s magazine a heartwarming book to inspire children to be grateful for this life and to see it as a way to attain jannah an ode to the beautiful relationship between mother and child emphasizing different stages of life and afterlife a topic usually never touched upon in children s books charming illustrations reads beautifully child friendly answer to big questions where did we come from and what happens to us when our time is over julia donaldson meets yasmin mogahed and the result is lyrical and soul touching children are rarely sad when loved ones pass away often pointing out that they are with allah subhanawatala now and this book stems from that peace and comfort in knowing there is a world beyond this one not just for children this book would make a perfect gift for expectant mothers or as a reminder for older kids in families suffering from loss
