student mobility is the most important factor in the internationalization of higher education in this book existing assumptions will be questioned that mobility is primarily south north and north north and that south south flows are rather marginal that the economic rationale has become so dominant that there are nearly no other motives to be found anymore and that the growing presence of national and international providers of higher education and opportunities for distance education reduce the need for international student mobility the dynamics of international student circulation will be analyzed on the basis of four countries egypt india indonesia and south africa which are perceived to be primarily on the sending side of student mobility and europe and the usa which are perceived to be primarily but not exclusively on the receiving side these case studies will be placed in the context of broader developments in the internationalization of higher education and related to definitions methodological issues and global data as used by unesco oecd and others this study has been undertaken by five scholars from different parts of the world in the context of the 2005 2006 new century scholars programme higher education in the twenty first century of the fulbright programme the book will be of relevance for both researchers and practitioners on globalization and the internationalization of higher education reprint of the original first published in 1881

this casebook presents a deep comparative analysis of property law systems in europe ie the law of immovables movables and claims offering signposts and stepping stones for the reader wishing to explore this fascinating area the subject matter is explained with careful attention given to its history foundations thought patterns underlying principles and basic concepts the casebook focuses on uncovering differences and similarities between europe s major legal systems french german dutch and english law are examined while austrian and belgian law are also touched upon the book combines excerpts from primary source materials case law and legislation and from doctrine and soft law in doing so it presents a faithful picture of the systems concerned separate chapters deal with the various types of property rights their creation transfer and destruction with security rights such as mortgages pledges retention of title as well as with harmonising and unifying efforts at the eu and global level through the functional approach taken by the ius commune casebooks this volume clearly demonstrates that traditional comparative insights no longer hold the law of property used to be regarded as a product of historical developments and political ideology which were considered to be almost set in stone and assumed to render any substantial form of harmonisation or approximation very unlikely even experienced comparative lawyers considered the divide between common law and civil law to be so deep that no common ground so it was thought could be found however economic integration in particular integration of financial markets and freedom of establishment has led to the integration of particular areas of property law such as mortgage law and enforceable security instruments eg retention of title this pressure towards integration has led comparative lawyers to refocus their interest from contract tort and unjustified enrichment to property law and delve beneath its surface this book reveals that today property law systems are closer to one another than previously assumed that common ground can be found and that differences can be analysed in a new light to enable comparison and further the development of property law in europe this book provides new theoretic and applied material with focus on quantitative methods and data analysis techniques applied in demography population studies health issues and statistics it discusses the quantitative techniques to estimate the healthy life expectancy by expanding the classical life tables to include the proportion with disability calculated from life tables along with the sullivan method the provided templates apply immediately to the life tables from who hmd eurostat and other life table providers furthermore the book explores the possibility of creating new health indicators along with covid 19 pandemic management factors associated to loneliness and an alcohol indicator part of the book is devoted to mortality epidemic models and the supercentenarians age estimation data analysis and artificial intelligence methods are included to apply in demographic and socio economic cases by providing a methodology to cope with health problems in demography and society by quantifying important health parameters this book is a valuable guide for researchers theoreticians and practitioners from various disciplines and especially health scientists statisticians economists and sociologists
