the five tribes of the tiste edur have finally been united under the implacable rule of the warlock king of hiroth but their peace has been made at the cost of a pact made with a hidden power and ancient forces are awakening that may destroy them all follows the perils of the citizens of the warring malazan empire

after decades of warfare the tribes of the tiste edur have at last united under the rule of the warlock king but peace has been exacted at a terrible price a pact made with a hidden power whose motives are at best suspect at worst deadly to the south the expansionist kingdom of lether has devoured all of its less civilised neighbours with rapacious hunger all save one the tiste edur but lether is approaching a long prophesied renaissance that it will take it from a kingdom and lost colony to an empire reborn and has fixed its gaze on the rich lands of the tiste edur it would seem inevitable that the tribes will surrender succumbing to the suffocating weight of gold or to slaughter at the edge of a sword or so destiny has decreed a pivotal treaty between the two sides nears but unknown ancient forces are awakening for the impending struggle between these two peoples is but a pale reflection of an altogether more profound primal battle a confrontation driven by a still raw betrayal and a craving for vengeance war and confrontation magic and myth collide in this the stunning fifth chapter in steven erikson's magnificent the malazan book of the fallen a series hailed as an epic of
