170 studies for trombone written by jaroslav cimera is a logical second volume to the famous cimera hovey method for trombone or any other good instruction book the second book of practical studies is designed to logically extend the techniques already presented in the first book and also to introduce and develop new techniques and rhythms that will offer a challenge to the intermediate student through the use of slightly more difficult and more extended studies it is hoped that the material included in this book may more fully develop general musicianship and more feeling for style and interpretation and thus act as a foundation for solo literature this book of original exercises is the sequel to the first book in this series the etudes are a mixture of the rhythmic pattern and solo type problems of rhythm technic and range are dealt with logically and progressively and with ample preparation in the case of the trombone special emphasis was placed on writing exercises which would allow economy of slide movement through the use of substitute positions the book is intended to be supplemental in nature and should be a value to the student by supplying additional material in certain developmental areas encountered in the student s regular method book the belwin student instrumental course is a course for individual instruction and class instruction of like instruments at three levels for all band instruments each book is complete in itself but all books are correlated with each other although each book can be used separately all supplementary books should be used as companion books with the method these 40 rhythmical studies in unison for band are based entirely on division of measure with easy key signatures they are filled with practical rhythms in a style that makes division of measure interesting
