the power and purpose of international law provides a well conceived explanation of the role of international law in today s world and how there are no acceptable arguments to justify the use of torture and secret prisons or to support the notion of a global battlefield by analyzing the history of ideas about international law and its actual operation o connell has provided an important and timely work for citizens students and scholars

a major departure from mainstream security studies this book mounts a thoughtful challenge to realist theories of crisis bargaining it tests the proposition that normative standards of behavior influence state actions in security related conflicts specifically it examines the construction of bilateral norms as the settlements of security related disputes and the effects these settlements have on subsequent interactions over the same issue drawing on institutionalist arguments about the informational impact of norms christopher gelpi contends that norms act as signals that give meaning to other states behavior in at least two important ways first they provide a mutually acceptable focal point for limiting both demands and concessions second security norms change the context in which coercive behavior is interpreted that is norms can cause coercive behavior to be interpreted as punishment rather than aggression gelpi tests this argument against its most prominent competitor a realist model of crisis bargaining in three stages first he uses a probit analysis to perform a quantitative test on the population of 122 reinitiated international crises between 1929 and 1979 second he conducts detailed case studies of the cienfuegos submarine conflict and the six day war finally he conducts a second statistical analysis examining the conditions under which security norms will succeed or fail while hypotheses derived from realist coercion theory receive only mixed support gelpi finds strong evidence that states can and do construct normative standards that guide their behavior in international crises evil even the most terrifying is often born from the seeds of previous malevolence we can observe it judge it fight against it but deep down we acknowledge in the quiet recesses of our hearts that we have played a part in its creation shaping it into our greatest adversary a tale of time serves as the prequel to the power of love the one set in a remote corner of the universe runae enjoys the protection of the god of time this seemingly fragile planet has defiantly resisted the looming threat of the king of emptiness nothing as the power of love trilogy unfolds while time confronts the enemy head on a subtle menace brews within the confines of his safeguarded world from the downfall of the human kingdom to the rise of the crimson queen the journey of a lifetime commences with the great dawn prepare yourself for an immersive experience of magic and power wars and betrayals as the narrative hurtles towards an inevitable and unstoppable clash note to readers for those who loved the story behind runae s demise this work will reveal witnessing comes in as many forms as the trauma that gives birth to it the holocaust undeniably one of the greatest traumatic events in recent human history still resonates into the twenty first century the echoes that haunt those who survived continue to reach their children and others who did not share the experience directly in what ways is this massive trauma processed and understood both for survivors and future generations the answer as deftly illustrated by nancy goodman and marilyn meyers lies in the power of witnessing the act of acknowledging that trauma took place coupled with the desire to share that knowledge with others to build a space in which to reveal confront and symbolize it as the contributors to this book demonstrate testimonial writing and memoir artwork poetry documentary theater and even the simple recollection of a memory are ways that honor and serve as forms of witnessing each chapter is a fusion of narrative and metaphor that exists as evidence of the living mind that emerges amid the dead spaces produced by mass trauma creating a revelatory transformational space for the terror of knowing and the possibility for affirmation of hope courage and endurance in the face of almost unspeakable evil additionally the power of witnessing is extended from the holocaust to contemporary instances of mass trauma and to psychoanalytic treatments proving its efficacy in the dyadic relationship of everyday practice for both patient and analyst the holocaust is not an easy subject to approach but the intimate and personal stories included here add up to an act of witnessing in and of itself combining the past and the present and placing the trauma in the realm of knowing sharing and understanding contributors harriet basseches elsa blum bridget conley zilkie paula ellman susan elmendorf george halasz geoffrey hartman renee hartman elaine neumann kulp shabad dori laub clemens loew gail humphries mardirosian margit meissner henri parens arlene kramer richards arnold
