tackling one of the most confusing and controversial issues in the field of international criminal law i e the genocidal intent element this monograph seeks to develop an account of genocidal intent from a collectivist perspective drawing upon the two layered structure of the crime of genocide composed of the conduct level and context level it detects the genocidal intent element at the context level the genocidal intent found in this manner belongs to a collective which significantly departs from the prior individualistic understandings of the notion of genocidal intent the author argues that the crime of genocide is not a crime of mens rea collective genocidal intent at the context level operates in a way that renders the crime of genocide itself a criminal enterprise the idea of genocide as a criminal enterprise also suggests that genocide is a leadership crime in respect of which only the high level actors can be labeled as principals as opposed to accessories the book criticizes the dominant individualistic approaches to genocidal intent in particular the knowledge based approach which have thus far governed the relevant jurisprudential and academic analysis it further demonstrates that the hidden notion of collective genocide silently governs the relevant international jurisprudence practitioners and academics in the field of international criminal law and related disciplines will find in this book a new approach to the crime of genocide the text is the first ever book length exposition of a collective account of genocidal intent its accessibility is highly enhanced by relevant footnotes sangkul kim is lecturer at korea university in seoul and research fellow with the centre for international law research and policy cilrap he served as associate legal adviser at the office of the prosecutor of the international criminal court 2004 2008 he earned law degrees from korea university and georgetown university law center

The Routledge Handbook of Instructed Second Language Acquisition is the first collection of state-of-the-art papers pertaining to instructed second language acquisition (ISLA) written by 45 world-renowned experts. The entries are full-length articles detailing pertinent issues with up-to-date references. Each chapter serves three purposes: 1) provide a review of current literature and discussions of cutting-edge issues; 2) share the authors' understanding of and approaches to the issues; and 3) provide direct links between research and practice. In short, based on the chapters in this handbook, ISLA has attained a level of theoretical and methodological maturity that provides a solid foundation for future empirical and pedagogical discovery. This handbook is the ideal resource for researchers, graduate students, upper-level undergraduate students, teachers, and teacher educators who are interested in second language learning and teaching.

Starting from concrete legal issues, Alan Norrie develops a critical vision of law in its relation to morality and socio-historical context. Traced historically, the conflicts he describes can be read today in law's treatment of legality and justice, judgment and responsibility. Joint winner of the Hart Socio-Legal Studies Association Book Prize 2006.
