planet's well-being depends on it. Worldwide learning presents a pedagogy for people, planet, and prosperity that supports K-8 educators in nurturing worldwide learners: students who both deeply understand and purposefully act when learning about global challenges. This teaching guidebook will help educators navigate emerging best practices to center historically marginalized voices and perspectives in middle, high school, and postsecondary learning spaces. The author provides an accessible blueprint for utilizing histories, culturally responsive teaching, and community-responsive pedagogy to build collaborative and equitable classrooms inspired by research steeped in oral histories. Bunch brings forth lessons from educators merged with voices of students to share impactful classroom practices. The UnHush framework asks us to unlearn the hush often associated with marginalized histories and stories. The framework considers the following guiding principles: using histories not told to inform teaching practices; unlearning behaviors and practices that do not empower marginalized voices; creating classrooms and spaces that allow for stories to be shared and encouraging healing to occur from connection, collaboration, and relationships. Part narrative, part guidebook, this resource harnesses the collective power of us to improve outcomes for students. Bunch's UnHush framework can help all educators be guided by the voices of past educators. From the foreword by Joyce Ladner, civil rights activist, educator, and author: "I am confident that my experiences in Dr. Bunch's classroom have shaped me into the curious and knowledgeable woman I strive to be. I believe this book will help create similar experiences for students across the world." Xyanne Purnell, former student.
