in his preface to the symbolism of the stupa prof craig reynolds writes the stupa is a symbolic form that pullulates throughtout south southeast and east asia in its indian manifestations it is an extreme case in terms of architectural function it has no usable has a basic simplicity in this state of the art studt adrian snodgrass reads the stupa as a cultural artifact the mounment concretizes metaphyswical principles and generates multivalent meanings in ways that can be articulated with literary texts and other architectural forms this study analyses a pattern of interrelated meanings generated by the form of the stupa it does so by reference to myth to ritual and to doctrine viewing the architectural form from within the conceptual framework of the tradition to which it belongs this approach involves questions of aim and methodology a deeper understanding of a symbol is gained by studying the grid or net formed by its symbolic homologues the pattern of meaning that emerges from the juxtaposition of cognate symbols does not exhaust the significance of the symbol which is ultimately beyond worlds but it reinforces its intimations indicating a logical cohesion and integrity which in itself is an intimation of the all pervasiveness of principle it is precisely this pattern of inter reflection or symbols that this study attempts to delineate by bringing together cognate symbols in apposition it attempts to mark out the field of symbolic interactions which the stupa generates the taming of the demons examines mythic and ritual themes of violence demon taming and blood sacrifice in tibetan buddhism taking as its starting point tibet s so called age of fragmentation 842 to 986 c e the book draws on previously unstudied manuscripts discovered in the library cave near dunhuang on the old silk road these ancient documents it argues demonstrate how this purportedly inactive period in tibetan history was in fact crucial to the tibetan assimilation of buddhism and particularly to the spread of violent themes from tantric buddhism into tibet at the local and the popular levels having shed light on this dark age of tibetan history the second half of the book turns to how from the late tenth century onward the period came to play a vital symbolic role in tibet as a violent historical other against which the tibetan buddhist tradition defined itself georges dreyfus a systematic presentation of the path of dzogchen the great perfection by one of its most renowned proponents and rendered by a master translator düdjom lingpa 1835 1904 was one of the foremost tantric masters of nineteenth century tibet and his powerful voice resonates strongly among buddhist practitioners today the vajra essence is düdjom lingpa's most extended meditation on the path of great perfection in many senses a commentary on all his other dzogchen works dzogchen the pinnacle of practice in the nyingma school is a radical revelation of the pure nature of consciousness that is delivered from master to disciple and perfected in a meditation that permeates every moment of our experience revealed to düdjom lingpa as a visionary treasure text in 1862 the vajra essence takes the reader through seven stages of progressively deeper practice from taking the impure mind as the path up to the practice of direct crossing over tögal the longest of düdjom lingpa's five visionary works on dzogchen readers will find this a rich and masterful evocation of the enlightened experience this is the first translation of this seminal work in any western language and b alan wallace with his forty five plus years of extensive learning and deep meditative experience is one of the most accomplished translators of tibetan texts into english vajra wisdom presents the commentaries of two great nineteenth century nyingma masters that guide practitioners engaged in development stage practice through a series of straightforward instructions the rarity of this kind of material in english makes it indispensable for practitioners and scholars alike the goal of development stage meditation in the tibetan buddhist tradition is to directly realize the inseparability of phenomena and emptiness preceded by initiation and oral instructions the practitioner arrives at this view through the profound methods of deity visualization mantra recitation and meditative absorption
