the work is divided into three parts the first which gives the fundamental philosophy of the whole is here reproduced faithfully though in a condensed form with criticisms of the present author interspersed of the second part which traces the logical and historical development of the art impulse there is an excellent translation easily accessible i have thought it best therefore to substitute here an original disquisition in language approaching nearer the vernacular and with more immediate regard to present æsthetic problems yet following also the pathway marked out by hegel and giving the substance of his thought of the third part which is larger than both the others combined being the treatment of all the arts in detail i have given all the important definitions and fundamental ideas omitting as was needful the minute illustrations of the same and the properly technical part which too can be found elsewhere
