the hodgson family was used to strange things happening in their little home at 284 green street when furniture and other objects seemingly moved on their own the family looked the other way until the angry spirit started sending them flying across the room instead explore the story of the poltergeist on green street in this graphic adventure based on a true story then learn the story of other ghosts from around the world and find out the truth behind ghost stories this is a gorgeous delicately surprising piece of writing it s like spirit photography all fuzzy outlines and unaccountable light a snapshot of something that may or may not exist terrence rafferty the new york times book review when frances met charlie at a party in melbourne he was married with a young son now that the couple has moved to subtropical sydney a lush and more chaotic city frances has an unshakable sense that the world has tipped on its axis everything seems alien and exotic and frances is haunted by the unknowability of charlie s previous life a young art historian studying the objects in paintings the material world frances takes mind clearing walks around her neighborhood with her dog behind the fence of one garden she thinks she sees a woman in an old fashioned gown but something is not right it is as if the garden exists in a vacuum suspended in time at an angle to life springtime is a ghost story that doesn't conform to the genre's traditions of dark and stormy nights graveyards and ruins it breaks new ground by unfolding in sunny suburban australia and the realism of the characters and events make the story's ambiguities and eeriness all the more disquieting the richness of observation here is immediately recognizable as michelle de kretzer's a writer who has been praised by hilary mantel as a master of the sharp almost hallucinatory detail the handbook to the ghost story sets out to survey and significantly extend a new field of criticism which has been taking shape over recent years centring on the ghost story and bringing together a vast range of interpretive methods and theoretical perspectives the main task of the volume is to properly situate the genre within historical and contemporary literary cultures across the globe and to explore its significance within wider literary contexts as well as those of the supernatural the handbook offers the most significant contribution to this new critical field to date assembling some of its leading scholars to examine the key contexts and issues required for understanding the emergence and development of the ghost story staging the ghost story is the first book to offer a critical appraisal of the centuries long relationship between the ghost story and the english stage the book balances a critical consideration of the ghost story in performance its history its cultural politics and its generic conventions with practical insight regarding the valency of live representations of the supernatural the challenges of embodiment and the power of storytelling throughout it draws upon accompanying interviews with prominent directors playwrights performers and stage designers in the industry including mark gatiss robin herford michael holt danny robins robert lloyd parry rebecca vaughan tajinder singh hayer glen neath adam z robinson richard sutton paul voodini and jonathan goodwin with a focus upon the seminal elements of theatrical performance time space bodies devices and audience the book invites the elusive shadows of the ghost story to take centre stage a fascinating story of what it might be like to be a ghost and the longing in us that makes us want them to exist glasgow herald books of the year throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries séances and spiritualist meetings grew in popularity one ghost appeared more than any other the katie king spirit blending historical fact and fiction a ghost's story presents the mysterious spirit writings and biographical outpourings of katie king this famous and enigmatic spirit celebrity a profound and curious consciousness guided into this realm by the faith of true believers or the cheap trickery of parlor cheats and exploitative swindlers katie king is both and more this is the tale of a ghost's quest to understand human faith loss and passion it is also the tale of a contemporary scholar desperate to understand the allure of the spirit world journeying with katie from the candle lit drawing rooms of victorian london to the imperial palaces of tsars from the shadiest of gimmicks and tricks to the most poignant sincerity of the deathbed wish a ghost's story features a narrator like no other moving in and out of time and space obstreperous witty and profoundly honest above all this inventive novel is an examination of belief and a spectacular insight into what lies on the other side at turns spooky and comical gibb deftly weaves fact with fiction so that each page shimmers ectoplasmically with uncertainty irish mail compelling add in a supporting cast of rogues charlatans and true believers and the theatrical trappings of seances and you are pitched in a world that is rich and strange sunday express a volume for readers who appreciate ghost stories with a twist where the past looms large and the old gods lurk in unexpected places within you will find nine supernatural tales spanning the ages from the ninth century to the present day some are of a darkly humorous and satirical nature whereas others are possessed of a rather more sinister and disturbing hue the characters whom you will encounter include bumptious academics a crass gold digger a wistful ex diplomat an ambitious victorian surveyor a rapacious norman lord a garrulous yorkshirewoman who likes to lend an unwelcome helping hand and families looking to get away from it all and wishing that they hadn t best read by the winter fireside accompanied by a glass of port or a full bodied red not recommended for those of an overly sensitive disposition
