this is tamil nadu's first human development report tamil nadu has fared very well in human development among the states in india it needs to be noted however that there are vast variations in the indicators of human development within the state itself factors contributing to human development are disaggregated in this report and analysed at the district level this will enable readers to understand the regional disparities in tamil nadu and the reasons behind them the report not only puts within one cover all the various aspects of human development in tamil nadu but also seeks to explain why the state has fared well in certain areas and not in others it also highlights the policy interventions that will be required to correct the imbalances

this volume focuses on the origin of the early tamil poetical canon which constitutes a set of specific subjects images principles of arrangement of basic poetical themes which are called tiṇai the author proceeds from the idea of a russian scholar o freidenberg that literary forms originate from anti literary material rather than their own archetypes an outline of mythological concepts prevalent in ancient tamil culture is presented alongside main mythological figures murukan māl cūr korāvai vaḷḷi a controversial notion of aṇanku especially in its aspect of an inner female energy is analyzed in addition the author explores the panegyric art of the tamil kings singers describing such singers and performers while discussing the idea of ritual character the elements of five canonical tiṇai themes of the akam poetry are examined where the use of ethnological data suggests that the themes are based on some behaviour patterns which are meant to ensure a reliable control over the female energy finally the text raises the problem of earlier poetic forms that consolidated the tiṇai system
