luminaries writers artists and expats including ernest hemingway f scott fitzgerald thornton wilder henri matisse and pablo picasso when the legendary alice was asked to write a memoir she initially refused instead she wrote the alice b toklas cook book a celebration of a lifetime in pursuit of culinary delights this sharply written deliciously rich compendium combines recipes for traditional french dishes such as coq au vin bouillabaisse and boeuf bourguignon with amusing tales from alice s life and travels to rural france spain and america in murder in the kitchen alice describes the first carp she killed after which she immediately lit up a cigarette and waited for the police to come and haul her away dishes for artists describes her hunt for the perfect recipe to fit picasso s peculiar diet recipes from friends highlights her infamous haschich fudge which she notes may often be accompanied by ecstatic reveries and extensions of one s personality on several simultaneous planes with delightful line drawings a foreword by m f k fisher and a new introduction by culinary doyenne ruth reichl the alice b toklas cook book brilliantly captures the spirit of a unique woman and the remarkable time in which she lived in this memoir turned cookbook alice b toklas describes her life with partner gertrude stein and their famed paris salon which entertained the great avant garde and literary figures of their day with dry wit and characteristic understatement toklas ponders the ethics of killing a carp in her kitchen before stuffing it with chestnuts decorating a fish to amuse picasso at lunch and travelling across france during the first world war in an old delivery truck gathering local recipes along the way she includes a friend s playful recipe for haschiche fudge which promises brilliant storms of laughter and ecstatic reveries much like her book examines the biographical projects that modernist women writers undertook to resist the exclusion of their friends colleagues lovers and companions from literary history as the first book length study to bring the fields of modernism and food studies together modernism and food studies anchors the burgeoning field of modernist food studies this volume collects theoretically and methodologically diverse essays that investigate modernist representations of food broadly treated in phases from production to distribution and consumption by exploring the profound relationship between modernist aesthetics and the new food cultures of modernity modernism and food studies uncovers new links between seemingly disparate spaces cultures and artistic media in a globalizing world the true story of alice b toklas explores how the concept of autobiography as a primarily referential genre is challenged and transformed in relation to autobiographical texts written about the same person the same life but differently by different writers at different points in time the concept of one true story is deconstructed in the process as linzie modifies homi k bhabha s almost the same but not quite not white for the purposes of this particular study as almost the same but not quite not straight the investigation moves simultaneously on the planes of textuality and sexuality in order to provisionally articulate a lesbian autobiographical subject in linzie s reading of these three texts this historical and biographical text explores the numerous up and down stages of gertrude stein and ernest hemingway s friendship one of the most fascinating and instructive literary associations of the twentieth century over a span of twenty four years they moved from a mentor student relationship to a rivalry between artistic peers despite dramatic fluctuations of love admiration jealousy resentment and name calling their association endured partly because of stein s admitted weakness for hemingway and his need for her approval by incorporating unpublished material from the hemingway collection at the john f kennedy library in boston the text shines new light on this famous friendship
