born in bern switzerland in 1933 harald szeemann was a crucial force in identifying exhibiting and writing about the important new movements in postwar contemporary art this collection of seventy four texts from the curator s vast body of written work which includes essays lectures studio notes reviews interviews correspondence and transcripts introduces the depth of his method insight and inclusive artistic interests the pieces have been translated from german and french and collected in an informed authoritative edition making this the first time szeemann s work is accessible in english the first two sections of this volume republish szeemann's anthologies Museum der Obsessionen 1981 and Individuelle Mythologien 1985 the final part assembles important writings from 1986 until his death in 2005 to represent the later years of his career and round out a record of his contribution to and dialogue with later twentieth century art and artists the book's publication coincides with the opening of the Getty Research Institute's exhibition Harald Szeemann: Museum of Obsessions and complements its catalogue as well as a contemporaneous satellite show at the Institute of Contemporary Art Los Angeles that focuses on szeemann's grandfather exhibition 1974

an investigation of artists' engagement with technical systems tracing art historical lineages that connect works of different periods machine art is neither a movement nor a genre but encompasses diverse ways in which artists engage with technical systems in this book andreas broeckmann examines a variety of twentieth and early twenty first century artworks that articulate people's relationships with machines in the course of his investigation broeckmann traces historical lineages that connect art of different periods looking for continuities that link works from the end of the century to developments in the 1950s and 1960s and to works by avant garde artists in the 1910s and 1920s an art historical perspective he argues might change our views of recent works that seem to be driven by new media technologies but that in fact continue a century old artistic exploration broeckmann investigates critical aspects of machine aesthetics that characterized machine art until the 1960s and then turns to specific domains of artistic engagement with technology algorithms and machine autonomy looking in particular at the work of the canadian artist david rokeby vision and image and the advent of technical imaging and the human body using the work of the australian artist stelarc as an entry point to art that couples the machine to the body mechanically or cybernetically finally broeckmann argues that systems thinking and ecology have brought about a fundamental shift in the meaning of technology which has brought with it a rethinking of human subjectivity he examines a range of artworks including those by the japanese artist seiko mikami whose work exemplifies the shift an engaging look at three women artists pathbreaking exploration of abstraction this volume examines contemporary images of machines it includes a group of international artists who paint machines in powerful images which link the need for technological mastery and power to the art making impulse itself works by lawrence gipe donald sultan robert moskowitz and mark tansey are included in addition the book presents the work of sculptors liz lerner rebecca horn and rosemarie trockel who make painting machines technologically fluent moving structures that both display themselves as art and duplicate processes of artistic production these witty provocative assemblages provide a postmodern critique directed not at society's reliance on technology but at artistic traditions of genius that both proscribe the use of technology and mimic its powerful effects
