A New York Review Books original in 1905 the young Swiss writer Robert Walser arrived in Berlin to join his older brother Karl already an important stage set designer and immediately threw himself into the vibrant social and cultural life of the city Berlin Stories collects his alternately celebratory droll and satirical observations on every aspect of the bustling German capital from its theaters cabarets painters galleries and literary salons to the metropolitan street markets the Tiergarten rapid service restaurants and the electric tram originally appearing in literary magazines as well as the feuilleton sections of newspapers the early stories are characterized by a joyous urgency and the generosity of an unconventional guide later pieces take the form of more personal reflections on the writing process memories and character studies all are full of counter intuitive images and vignettes of startling clarity showcasing a unique talent for whom no detail was trivial at grips with a city diving headlong into modernity the shadows of berlin is in part a bleak chronicle of life in a europe growing ever more hostile at the edge of world war ii more than that these stories offer glimpses into a community and a world now lost they are also in part parables of modern life drawing as much on the transformative possibility of scripture as they do on gritty depictions of the berlin street bergelson s stories hint at the possibility of redemption even as they suggest a horror just around the corner book jacket first published in 1939 goodbye to berlin has been popularized on stage and screen by julie harris in i am a camera and liza minelli in cabaret unflinchingly precise and funny isherwood captures the city where he lived from 1929 to 1933 its charming avenues and caf@s its sexy night life its dreamers eccentrics runaways cadgers its morally bankrupt among the finest prose stylists in yiddish literature david bergelson 1884 1952 was caught up in many of the twentieth century s most defining events in 1909 he emerged as a pioneer of modernist prose observing the slow decay of the tsarist empire in 1917 he welcomed the revolution but the bloodshed of the ensuing civil war and the dogmatism of the bolsheviks drove him to emigration for more than a decade 1921 1934 he lived in weimar germany travelling extensively in europe and the united states shocked by the wall street crash of 1929 disheartened by the decline of yiddish culture in the west and inspired by soviet promises to create a jewish republic bergelson became a communist sympathiser and moved towards socialist realism returning to the soviet union after hitler s rise to power bergelson flourished in a state sponsored cultural environment in which his work was widely read both in yiddish and in russian translation after hitler s invasion of the soviet union in 1941 bergelson became a prominent member of the jewish anti fascist committee writing extensively about the holocaust in the paranoia of the cold war years the stalinist regime accused him of anti soviet activities and after a secret military trial he was executed on 12 august 1952 his 68th birthday for years critics have argued that bergelson produced his best work before the revolution and afterwards largely wrote communist propaganda david bergelson from modernism to socialist realism challenges this view by examining bergelson s entire oeuvre the book argues that bergelson continually reinvented himself as a writer experimenting with style and narrative technique even under the most severe restrictions of party dogma with contributions from an international team of bergelson experts the volume offers a full length biography the first complete bibliography of bergelson s work translations of two of his most influential programmatic articles and a range of essays dealing with all periods of the writer s life with the contributions joseph sherman david bergelson 1884 1952 a biography lev bergelson memories of my father the early years 1918 1934 daniela mantovan language and style in nokh alemen 1913 bergelson s debt to flaubert kerstin hoge for children and adults alike reading bergelson s children s stories 1914 1919 as narratives of identity formation seth i wolitz yoysef shor 1922 between two worlds sasha senderovich in search of readership bergelson among the refugees 1928
