seminar paper from the year 2009 in the subject cultural studies basics and definitions grade 1 3 dresden technical university language english abstract be it in the business world as a traveller trying to master a foreign language or to teach it nowadays we meet people of foreign cultures more frequently than this was the case just 50 or even 100 years ago even though linguistic difficulties are often surmountable through english as lingua franca meeting people from cultures we are unfamiliar with bears the potential for many misunderstandings these in turn quite often lead to lack of understanding conflict even political disaster like in 2005 with the danish caricature scandal involving the newspaper jyllands posten when a fundamentalist muslim cleric from egypt living in denmark felt offended and ridiculed in his religious beliefs by caricatures featuring mohammed the islamic world thereby rallied to the case and did not only react with outrage and boycott but with violent attacks in the course of which 140 people lost their lives and several hundred were injured milder reactions like rejection and hidden resentment are however the more common outcomes due to intercultural misunderstandings how otherwise would there be stereotypes mostly carrying negative connotations like the obedient chinese the superficial american or the super punctual german lacking humor the dutch anthropologist and cultural scientist geert hofstede suggests that the reason for such misunderstandings is a culturally divergent often concealed moral concept with a direct impact on human actions and thinking hofstede has devoted himself to this issue and has developed a model based on a long time study elucidating peculiarities of and differences between national cultures in comparison thereby hofstede classified national cultures according to five pillars also called dimensions which dependent on the nation vary markedly and in his study are set in relation to each other the subject and the goal of this assignment is to present the main features of hofstede s model of the five dimensions of national cultures following the practical applicability of this model is briefly discussed the crucial element of this book constitutes the synthesis of cultural dimensions from existing cultural taxonomies extended by the operationalization of the eight identified universal dimensions of culture udfs into a questionnaire first an extensive systematic literature review slr is pursued to identify the current state of research demonstrating the research gap on a unified approach for classifying national cultures into cultural dimensions eight assumptions displaying the eight udfs are derived from the results of the slr subsequently an evaluation and selection framework for identifying the research base of comparable existing cultural taxonomies is developed a research base of 11 cultural taxonomies and 50 cultural dimensions is retrieved these serves as the basis for developing the eight udfs following a synthesis process and protocol the eight udfs are operationalized into a questionnaire which is extensively pre tested by experts and in the field an example country study for germany canada and brazil is conducted and the corresponding country profiles for the eight udfs are displayed hofstede s cultural dimensions is a theoretical framework analyzing the relative differences between national cultures using six dimensions of cultural values these dimensions are a power distance dimension b uncertainty avoidance dimension c individualism dimension d masculinity dimension e time orientation dimension and e indulgence dimension each dimension relates to and describes patterns of more specific values beliefs ideas and actions within a culture ultimately applying hofstede s cultural dimensions creates a better understanding of how and why cultures may function differently and thus increases cultural competency master s thesis from the year 2011 in the subject business economics business management corporate governance grade 10 oxford brookes university language english abstract global markets are changing faster than ever and increasing international competition makes it necessary for managers to understand not only the domestic culture but also the host country s culture derived from globalisation successful cross cultural management is gaining in importance and its need for understanding of cultural differences becomes essential because of this it is argued that with the increasing importance of a cross cultural understanding hofstede s 1980 model of cultural dimensions gains proportional importance and attracts notice at the same time his study is widely used in global operating organisations within trainings and workshops the first step of effective cross cultural management is the awareness that cultural differences exist and domestic strategies might fail in host countries even though hofstede s 1980 cultural study is the most important one and widely known there are many other cultural studies which are only partly supporting his study for each and every model of cultural identifications arouse praise and criticism and hofstede was not spared by criticism the main criticism refers to the methodology hofstede used and many authors questioned its validity and reliability another major critique is that the nearly 40 years old survey findings are out dated and not of any modern value anymore addressing the elaborated criticisms from the literature a personal replication study within the two countries of germany and the uk is undertaken in order to evaluate the validity reliability and applicability in the 21st century this study has developed own dimension scores for masculinity femininity mas and uncertainty avoidance ua for germany and the uk and compared and evaluated these with hofstede s findings the findings of this st foreign colleagues and themselves can achieve success in international business scroll machl 2003 p 9 geert hofstede a dutch organizational sociologist conducted a worldwide study on the influence of national cultures on organizational cultures one of the dimensions he found during his study was uncertainty avoidance this dimension deals with a society's tolerance for uncertainty and ambiguity it indicates to what extent a culture programs its members to feel either uncomfortable or comfortable in unstructured situations unstructured situations are novel unknown surprising different from usual uncertainty avoiding cultures try to minimize the possibility of such situations by strict laws and rules safety and security measures moreover they are often guided by the belief in absolute truth there can only be one truth and we have it uncertainty accepting cultures are more tolerant of opinions different from what they are used to they try to have as few rules as possible hofstede 1994 p 4 this paper deals with the influence of this uncertainty avoidance dimension and the accompanying appreciation of rules and regulations on doing business in germany and japan the papers compiled in this report attempt to determine under what conditions and to what extent cultural factors make a difference in the elaboration and execution of non proliferation arms control and disarmament nacd policies they seek to clarify a concept of security cultures that draws upon the diplomatic political strategic and social elements that go into security policy making culture as it refers to nacd issues consists of those enduring and widely shared beliefs traditions attitudes and symbols that inform the ways in which a state's or society's interests and values with respect to security stability and peace are perceived articulated and advanced by political actors and elites the papers cover a range of states and regions south east asia china india latin america and the middle east each examines a range of concrete issues and cases connected with nacd issues and orientations towards security more generally high quality content by wikipedia articles geert hofstede's theory of cultural dimensions describes the effects of a society's culture on the values of its members and how these values relate to behavior using a structure derived from factor analysis the theory has been widely used in several fields as a paradigm for research particularly in cross cultural psychology international management and cross cultural communication hofstede developed his original model as a result of using factor analysis to examine the results of a world wide survey of employee values by ibm in the 1960s and 1970s the theory was one of the first that could be quantified and could be used to explain observed differences between cultures danne izdanie predstavlyaet soboj kompilyatsiyu svedenij nahodyaschihsya v svobodnom dostupe v srede internet v tselom i v informatsionnom setevom resurse vikipediya v chastnosti sobrannaya po chastotnym zaprosam ukazannoj tematiki dannaya kompilyatsiya postroena po printsipu podbora blizkih informatsionnyh ssylok ne imeet samostoyatelnogo syuzheta ne soderzhit nikakih analiticheskikh materialov vyvodov otsenok moralnogo eticheskogo politicheskogo religioznogo i mirovozzrencheskogo haraktera v otnoshenii glavnoj tematiki predstavlyaya soboj
