excerpt from a short introduction to the literature of the bible i wish to explain that this volume is not an abridgement of my other work on the literary study of the bible there is necessarily much in common between two treatments of the same topic but the purposes of the two are distinct the larger work is intended for formal students it is an illustration of literary morphology in the field of sacred scripture the present book is addressed to the general reader whether more or less cultured it avoids technicalities and treats the matter of the bible approaching this from the literary side in what sense i understand the word literary as distinguished from theological and critical i have sufficiently explained in the opening section many things have convinced me that we are entering upon a new era of popular interest in the sacred scriptures my duties as a lecturer have brought me in contact with many different types of audiences in different parts of england and america no single thing has impressed me more than the commonness of the remark coming usually from persons who were neither uneducated nor irreligious that the bible except for a few passages had long been a sealed book to them but that they were taking to it again we have done almost everything that is possible with these hebrew and greek writings about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
