without question inter religious relations are crucial in the contemporary age while most dialogue works on past and contemporary matters this volume takes on the relations among the abrahamic religions and looks forward toward the possibility of real and lasting dialogue the book centers upon inter faith issues it identifies problems that stand in the way of fostering healthy dialogues both within particular religious traditions and between faiths the volume s contributors strive for a realization of already existing common ground between religions they engagingly explore how inter religious dialogue can be re energized for a new century in the face of competing religious claims in our shrinking world many turn to dialogue as a hopeful way of fostering understanding and reducing violence but why does actual dialogue so often fail this provocative study investigates the possibilities and limits of interreligious dialogue by showing the significant obstacles for dialogue within christianity the book also proposes ways in which these obstacles may be overcome from within major themes include humility conviction interconnection empathy and generosity this book advances an abrahamic asymmetric mutual substitutive model of hospitality as a practical approach to establish peaceful coexistence between muslims and christians the merits include its helpful survey of the four models of interfaith dialogue and its clear exposition of the dialogue of life its constructive use of the philosophy of levinas particularly in supporting its vision of asymmetrical moral responsibility among muslim and christians and its familiarity with an extensive philosophical literature on alterity gift exchange and responsibility the research also demonstrates strong command of the relevant christian and muslim scriptures and catholic teaching on interfaith relations in addition to a wide range of background material on african ubuntu spirit visible in nigerian sociocultural and religious interdependent relations through a consistent engagement of these philosophical ethical and cultural dimensions the abrahamic theology of hospitality is ingeniously crafted to fill the age old gap mutual inability to deal with religious otherness at once the book provokes further scholarship inquiries on and around the identified concerns its commonness and concreteness with the proposed respect for each other s faith commitment further underscores its quality this study offers a critical assessment of the two contested issues religious pluralism and iconoclasm from a korean perspective by looking at a number of isaiah s central themes which can be identified as particularistic and universalistic it also seeks to elucidate the contemporary implications of isaiah s particularistic and universalistic themes for a pluralistic world especially for korean religious communities which have been overwhelmed by a fiery debate about these issues this latest volume in the controversies in contextual theology series provides an introduction to the current state of the field for those new to interreligious dialogue and the theology of religions as well as providing insights and new concepts that will be of interest to specialists in particular the current deadlock between pluralist and particularist approaches is re imagined and a strong argument for radical openness to the religious other is advanced based upon the resources of the christian heritage the book draws inspiration from many sources including intercultural theology feminist theologies of religions comparative theology postcolonial identity theory scholarly debates on the nature of religion and biblical concepts of hospitality to outline its new approach it concludes that we must seek mutual fulfillment with religious others while maintaining christian integrity it also addresses the problems this involves when seeking ethical partnership across religious boundaries no easy answers are given however a vision for radical openness based on jesus example the christian heritage and contemporary scholarship is endorsed this crisp and cogent book by the rev dr strouse is published at a time when both interfaith and intrafaith dialogue are critical to the vitality of spiritual life in our nation as a parish pastor in a small struggling congregation i have become increasingly aware of the insularity and isolation of many of our parishioners this seems less the result of inadequate parish education as it is the byproduct of too many people getting their information from biased tv networks so called social media or word of mouth we parish pastors need to examine our internal intra congregational conversations about diverse faith traditions and how they bear on congregational mission i was particularly impressed by the author s use of footnotes and her extensive bibliography the book is a walking talking workshop in print with its detailed reflection discussion questions and suggestions for further reading thank you pastor strouse for such a comprehensive presentation of how to approach constructively this timely and important conversation review by richard g eddy synthesizing the thinking of the most prominent scholars professor edmund chia discusses practically everything that should be known about christianity s encounter with other religions in this comprehensive book topics include the invention of the idea of world religions and world christianity the bible and the church s attitude toward other faiths vatican ii asian christianity and interfaith dialogue the what why when and how of dialogue the global ecumenical movement theologies of religious pluralism cross textual hermeneutics comparative theology interfaith worship religious syncretism multiple religious belonging interfaith learning in seminaries john d arcy may s achievements motivate these essays on ecumenics amid today s scepticism about the ecumenical movement s relevance the authors demonstrate the necessity of working together for the betterment of all this book deepens our understanding of how theology peace and reconciliation studies and interfaith dialogue critically cooperate for the flourishing of earth s life the perspective of church unity amid ecclesial division is broadened to embrace interfaith and intercultural issues ecumenics becomes visible as the intellectual paradigm of our times the rapidly growing chinese protestant church faces a significant challenge it must adapt itself to the unique dimensions of chinese culture leaving behind the trail of old missionary theology and molding an authentically chinese approach to biblical interpretation and christian life an approach that works within both the traditional and the contemporary dimensions of chinese society rising from an extraordinary 2003 sino nordic conference on chinese contextual theology which brought chinese university scholars and church theologians together for the first time christianity and chinese culture addresses ways in which the church in china is responding to that challenge the essays collected here highlight both the stunning complexities confronting protestant christianity in china and its remarkable potential this is a most timely publication on the current issues and research on christianity and chinese culture in the prc previously unavailable in english the list of scholars in the collection reads like a who's who in christian studies in china including both secular academics and christian theologians the final part on theological reconstruction is of particular interest given its importance for the protestant churches in the last decade this book should be on the shelf of any scholar interested in the subject edmond tang director east asian christian studies university of birmingham uk contributors zhao dunhua zhang qingxiong diane b obenchain svein rise he guanghu wan junren lo ping cheung you bin he jianming lai pan chiu jorgen skov sorensen jyri komulainen gao shining zhao xiping notto r thelle yang huilin thor strandenaes li pingye vladimir fedorov wang xiaochao choong chee pang zhang minghui li qiuling fredrik filman birger nygaard deng fucun chen xun gerald h anderson zhu xiaohong sun yi chen yongtao lin manhong wu xiaoxin this comprehensive volume brings together a distinguished editorial team including some of the field's pioneers to explore the aims practice and historical context of interfaith collaboration explores in full the background history objectives and discourse between the leaders and practitioners of the world's major religions examines relations between religions from around the world moving well beyond the common focus on christianity to also cover over 12 major religions features a wealth of case studies on contemporary interreligious dialogue charts a long term shift away from a competitive rivalry between belief systems and a change in focus towards the more respectful cooperative approach reflected in institutions such as the world council of churches includes up to date commentary on the growing dialogue of recent years written by some of the leading figures working in the field of interfaith discourse though women have been objects more often than subjects of interreligious dialogue they have nevertheless contributed in significant ways to the dialogue just as the dialogue has also contributed to their own self understanding this volume the fifth in the interreligious dialogue series brings together historical critical and constructive approaches to the role of women in the dialogue between religions these approaches deal with concrete examples of women's involvement in dialogue critical reflections on the representation of women in dialogue and the important question of what women might bring to the dialogue together they open up new avenues for reflection on the nature and purpose of interreligious dialogue in the emerging fields of religious and interreligious peacebuilding the question of monitoring and evaluation is a challenging yet necessary process the need to develop comprehensive yet fitting evaluation models for religious and interreligious peacebuilding is not only important for donor interests but also critical as a means of documenting and learning for peacebuilders themselves theories and best practices in monitoring and evaluation have become prevalent in many fields yet the amount of literature on evaluating intercultural and especially religious and interreligious projects remains scant in comparison this volume offers a unique contribution that not only looks at several of the challenges and implications faced by religious and interreligious peacebuilders but also provides concrete examples of new models and tools for monitoring and evaluating religious and interreligious peacebuilding projects in doing so this volume serves as a tool and point of reference for individuals and organizations developing and implementing interreligious dialogue and peacebuilding projects the first intellectual history of interreligious dialogue a relatively new and significant dimension of human religiosity in recent decades organizations committed to interreligious or interfaith dialogue have proliferated both in the western and non western worlds why how so and what exactly is interreligious dialogue these are the touchstone questions of this book the first major history of interreligious dialogue in the modern age thomas albert howard narrates and analyzes several key turning points in the history of interfaith dialogue before examining in the conclusion the contemporary landscape while many have theorized about and practiced interreligious dialogue few have attended carefully to its past connecting its emergence and spread with broader developments in modern history interreligious dialogue grasped in light of careful critical attention to its past holds promise for helping people of diverse faith backgrounds to foster cooperation and knowledge of one another while contributing insight into contemporary global religious pluralism
