this widely acclaimed book has been described by history today as a landmark in the study of the women s movement it is the only comprehensive reference work to bring together in one volume the wealth of information available on the women s movement drawing on national and local archival sources the book contains over 400 biographical entries and more than 800 entries on societies in england scotland and wales easily accessible and rigorously cross referenced this invaluable resource covers not only the political developments of the campaign but provides insight into its cultural context listing novels plays and films the first world war was an epic event of huge proportions that lasted over four years and involved the armies of more than twenty nations resulting in 30 million casualties including more than 8 million killed set against the backdrop of this massive carnage the search for negotiated peace is the gripping story of the events that moved high profile american and european citizens particularly women into the international peace movement this small transatlantic network put forth proposals for changing the international system of negotiation they supported non annexationist war aims and attempted to discredit nations secret diplomacy militarism and narrowly nationalistic practices instead they wanted to develop a new diplomacy david patterson skillfully develops the interactions of many of the notable leaders of the movement including jane addams aletta jacobs and rosika schwimmer into an absorbing narrative that brings together the various strands of women s history international diplomatic history and peace history for the first time the search for negotiated peace is an essential read for anyone interested in the social history of world war i and the foundations of citizen activism today lady herringham arrived on the edwardian art scene with a translation of il libro dell arte o trattato della pittura cennini s fifteenth century handbook on fresco and tempera it aroused new interest in those techniques and led to the founding of the society of painters in tempera in 1901 to preserve britain s art heritage from buyers abroad she provided the money that launched the national art collections fund in 1903 creating what is still a vital and authoritative voice in britain s cultural life her work as the only woman on the nacf s first executive committee prepared her to assist in founding the india society which urged respect for indigenous indian traditions of the fine arts and encouraged appreciation for them in england this book brings together twelve chapters from feminist historians from around the world to offer new perspectives on aspects of the campaign for women s suffrage in britain although the focus is on britain this volume signals how the women s suffrage campaign in britain embraced both national and global aspects the historical developments and structures that affected women s lives and suffrage struggles were not limited to national contexts early chapters focus on particular individuals both well and lesser known including millicent garrett fawcett and emmeline pankhurst as well as elizabeth wolstenholme elmy princess sophia duleep singh lady isabel margesson and isabella ford later chapters highlight the interrelationship between the british movement and suffrage campaigns across the globe with reference to austria japan new zealand australia and the usa the chapters deal with issues around strategies social class employment religion nationalism empire and race and explore complex issues about women s roles in campaigning for their democratic right to the parliamentary vote offering the reader a broad view of the british women s suffrage movement this is the ideal volume for students of women s and political history in both its national and international contexts this reference book containing the biographies of more than 1 100 notable british women from boudicca to barbara castle is an absorbing record of female achievement spanning some 2 000 years of british life most of the lives included are those of women whose work took them in some way before the public and who therefore played a direct and important role in broadening the horizons of women also included are women who influenced events in a more indirect way the wives of kings and politicians mistresses ladies in waiting and society hostesses originally published as the europa biographical dictionary of british women this newly re worked edition includes key figures who have died in the last 20 years such as the queen mother baroness ryder of warsaw elizabeth jennings and christina foyle at the end of the twentieth century more people are living into their seventies eighties nineties and beyond a process expected to continue well into the next millennium the twentieth century has achieved what people in other centuries only dreamed of many can now expect to survive to old age in reasonably good health and can remain active and independent to the end in contrast to the high death rate ill health and destitution which affected all ages in the past yet this change is generally greeted not with triumph but with alarm it is assumed that the longer people live the longer they are ill and dependent thus burdening a shrinking younger generation with the cost of pensions and health care it is also widely believed that the past saw few survivors into old age and these could be supported by their families without involving the taxpayer in this first survey of old age throughout english history these assumptions are challenged vivid pictures are given of the ways in which very large numbers of older people lived often vigorous and independent lives over many centuries the book argues that old people have always been highly visible in english communities and concludes that as people live longer due to the benefits of the rise in living standards far from being burdens they can be valuable contributors to their family and friends in light of the history of three influential women s organizations in the united states england and france naomi black offers a provocative new interpretation of feminism she perceives two inherently different types of feminist thought equity feminism which incorporates women into existing male dominated ideologies such as liberalism marxism and socialism and the less familiar social feminism which emphasizes women s distinctive experiences and values examining the development of organizations previously considered traditional and nonpolitical the league of women voters the women s co operative guild and the union féminine civique et sociale black concludes that the social feminism which characterizes these groups is a genuinely radical approach to social change this book focuses on thomas arthur leonard a congregational minister in colne lancashire in the 1890s and the co operative holidays association which he founded in 1893 the co operative holidays association which was re named the countrywide holidays association in 1964 but was always affectionately known as the cha operated as an independent provider of outdoor holidays until 2002 leonard left the cha in 1913 to establish the holiday fellowship an organisation with similar ideals to the cha which continues to trade as hf holidays leonard was also instrumental in the establishment of the youth hostels association in 1930 and the formation of the ramblers association in 1935 of which he was the first president he strongly supported the national trust founded in 1895 and was a stalwart of the campaign for national parks during the 1930s he was a founder member of the friends of the lake district in 1934 and was connected with a number of other outdoor holiday organisations this book details the life and achievements of this extraordinary man who rebelled against the conventionality of the 1880s and 1890s and was appalled by the dull and grim lives of artisans and textile workers in the industrial north of england it also tells the story of the cha which pioneered walking holidays in the outdoors for working people from its foundation in 1893 to its demise in 2004 the book describes how the cha faced the challenges of changing social economic and cultural conditions during the twentieth century such as increasing affluence and consumer choice changing cultural attitudes and expectations the popularisation of outdoor recreation and the proliferation of outdoor holiday providers it shows how the cha drifted away from its original ideals in an attempt to remain viable in the face of increasing consumerism but nevertheless continued to provide holidays for thousands of people based on healthy recreation and quiet enjoyment and the principles of friendship and fellowship based on extensive new research investigating the range of women s involvement in early nineteenth century popular politics mid victorian reform and the women s movements of the late century women and the people makes an original intervention in the historiography of the radical tradition by exploring the interconnections of populism liberalism and feminism attending to authorship the study argues that the representational forms adopted by radicals were as important as the content of what they said in shaping their self perception their construction of others and the reception of their ideas in fiction poetry and autobiography as well as in political writing speeches and journalism women reworked radical conventions and imagined new models of political identity participation and authority though in general radicals appealed to the people women were often positioned as the suffering objects of reform rather than as the agents of change by showing how they challenged or reinforced these conceptions of women and the people the book contends that radical women invoked alternative communities of sex class and nation and helped to remake and discipline the political sphere as they strove to make it their own the volumes in this set of works come together to provide a comprehensive reference for the annual municipal elections that took place each november in the 83 county boroughs of england and wales between 1919 and 1938 they also provide an analysis of municipal politics in the same period in terms of both individual borough and of aggregate patterns of political behaviour these local elections occurred annually and so give the clearest record of how political opinion changed between general elections or the crisis period of 1929 31 such records help to illuminate the impact of fringe parties such as the communist party and the british union of fascists they also show the role of women in politics the significance of religious and ethnic differentiation and the connection between occupational and class divisions and party allegiance this particular volume covers the bradford to carlisle
