the focus of fernand braudel s great work is the mediterranean world in the second half of the sixteenth century but braudel ranges back in history to the world of odysseus and forward to our time moving out from the mediterranean area to the new world and other destinations of mediterranean traders braudel s scope embraces the natural world and material life economics demography politics and diplomacy

a translation of fernand braudel s ecrits sur l histoire published in 1969 the main themes of the work include the importance of a rapprochement between history and the social sciences the inseparability of study of past and present and the dubious value of the narrative techniques when i studied these manuals a source then little exploited i noticed that the academic like the merchant was justified by reference to the labor he accomplished the novelty of the academics thus ultimately appeared to lie in their role as intellectual workers my attention was therefore drawn to two notions whose ideological avatars i attempted to trace through the concrete social conditions in which they developed these notions were labor and time under these two heads i maintain two open files from which some of the articles collected here are drawn i am still persuaded that attitudes toward work and time are essential aspects of social structure and function and that the study of such attitudes offers a useful tool for the historian who wishes to examine the societies in which they develop preface page xii from the author of Memory and the Mediterranean a comprehensive history of the italian city states from 1450 to 1650 in the fifteenth century even before the city states of the apennine peninsula began to coalesce into what would become several centuries later a nation italy exerted enormous influence over all of europe and throughout the mediterranean its cultural economic and political dominance is utterly astonishing and unique in world history viewing the italy the many italies of that time through the lens of today allows us to gather a fragmented multi faceted and seemingly contradictory history into a single unifying narrative that speaks to our current reality as much as it does to a specific historical period this is what the acclaimed french historian fernand braudel achieves here he brings to life the two extraordinary centuries that span the renaissance mannerism and the baroque and analyzes the complex interaction between art science politics and commerce during italy s extraordinary cultural flowering based on analysis of archival and published sources opponents of the annales school examines for the first time those who have dared to criticise and ignore one of the most successful currents of thought in modern historiography it offers an original contribution to the understanding of an unavoidable chapter in modern intellectual history with the process of a wider europe eu commission president romano prodi s ring of friends that extends from marrakech in morocco to st petersburg in russia gathering speed the growing rift between europe and america also is about how to deal politically with the countries of the mediterranean muslim world the house of islam dar al islam was pivotal to the european path to the renaissance and to the re discovery of classic greek philosophy the mediterranean policy of the european union aims at a positive and co operative relationship with the region a successful integration of the mediterranean south would have tremendous and positive repercussions for regional and world peace world wide leading experts from the field of world systems analysis economics integration theory political science theology and area studies agnostics christians jews and muslims alike discuss the issue with european decision makers the outcome is an interdisciplinary evaluation of this projected export of peace co operation dialogue and stability in the framework of world centre periphery relationships in recent years memory has attracted increasing attention from analyses of electronic communication and the internet to discussions of heritage culture to debates about victimhood and sexual abuse memory is currently generating much cultural interest this interdisciplinary collection takes a journey through memory in order to contextualize this current memory boom memory cultures focuses on memories outside in the many fields within which understandings of memory have been produced it focuses less on memory as an object whose inner workings are to be studied and more on memory as a concept it traces the genealogies of our contemporary western understandings of memory through studies of the early modern arts of memory it also discusses nineteenth century evolutionary museums and the modernist explorations of artists and writers here it explores the differences between western and non western concepts of the lived past and compares understandings of memory in history psychoanalysis and anthropology the volume is divided into five parts believing the body propping the subject what memory forgets models of the mind what history forgets memory and time and memory beyond the modern individual essays by many of the foremost international scholars in memory studies trace memory's intimate association with identity and recognition with cities with lived time with the science of the mind with fantasy and with the media memory cultures will be of essential interest to those working in the fields of cultural studies history and also anthropology susannah radstone and katharine hodgkin teach in the school of cultural and innovation studies at the university of east london a collective intellectual biography that sheds new light on the annales school structuralism and racial democracy would the most recognizable ideas in the french social sciences have developed without the influence of brazilian intellectuals while any study of brazilian social sciences acknowledges the influence of french scholars ian merkel argues the reverse is also true the french social sciences were profoundly marked by brazilian intellectual thought particularly through the university of são paulo through the idea of the cluster merkel traces the intertwined networks of claude lévi strauss fernand braudel roger bastide and pierre monbeig as they overlapped at usp and engaged with brazilian scholars such as mário de andrade gilberto freyre and caio prado jr through this collective intellectual biography of brazilian and french social sciences terms of exchange reveals connections that shed new light on the annales school structuralism and racial democracy even as it prompts us to revisit established thinking on the process of knowledge formation through fieldwork and intellectual exchange at a time when canons are being rewritten this book reframes the history of modern social scientific thought

this collection reprints key articles written within the past 30 years on the annales school their journal their influence on history historiography and other academic fields scholars have long regarded bread politics and political economy in the reign of louis xv 1776 as marking an important moment in the study of the social political and cultural history of eighteenth century france the stakes of regulation is the companion volume to a new edition of this landmark study revealing how kaplan's thinking has evolved in reaction both to the changing intellectual epistemological historiographical and socio political environment and to the significant scholarship that has been accomplished during the past forty years kaplan remains faithful to his original premise that the subsistence question is at the core of eighteenth century history and that the issues joined by the struggle over liberalization continue to shape our destiny today through the bristling tension between liberty and equality and the debate over the necessity legitimacy and character of regulation

the focus of fernand braudel's great work is the mediterranean world in the second half of the sixteenth century but braudel ranges back in history to the world of odysseus and forward to our time moving out from the mediterranean area to the new world and other destinations of mediterranean traders braudel's scope embraces the natural world and material life economics demography politics and diplomacy

fernand braudel 1912 1985 was a leading french historian and author of among other books the groundbreaking the mediterranean and the mediterranean world in the age of philip ii 1949 one of the founders of the annales school in france braudel insisted on treating the mediterranean region as a whole irrespective of religious and national divides braudel s new historiography rejected political history as the dominant discipline and espoused a total history or a history from below that would tell the story of the vast majority of humanity hitherto excluded from the grand narrative at the time of the book s appearance this premise was revolutionary the contributors to braudel revisited assess the impact of braudel s work on today s academic world in light of subsequent methodological shifts engaging with braudel s texts as well as with his ideas the essays in this volume speak to the enduring legacy of his work on the ongoing exploration of early modern history

in his pathbreaking article history and the social sciences the longue durée fernand braudel raised a call for the social sciences to overcome their disciplinary isolation from one another commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the article s publication the contributors to this volume do not just acknowledge their debt to the past they also bear witness to how the crisis braudel recognized a half century ago is no less of a crisis today the contributions included here from scholars in history sociology and geography reflect the spirit and practice of the intellectual agenda espoused by braudel coming together around the concept of the longue durée indeed they are evidence of how the groundbreaking research originally championed by braudel has been carried forward in world systems analysis for a more socially relevant understanding of the planet and its future possibilities the book concludes with a new translation of braudel s original article by famed sociologist immanuel wallerstein written from a consciously anti ethnocentric approach this fascinating work is a survey of the civilizations of the modern world in terms of the broad sweep and continuities of history rather than the event based technique of most other texts back cover
