a revelatory portrait of chekhov during the most extraordinary artistic surge of his life in 1886 a twenty six year old anton chekhov was publishing short stories humor pieces and articles at an astonishing rate and was still a practicing physician yet as he honed his craft and continued to draw inspiration from the vivid characters in his own life he found himself to his surprise and occasional embarrassment admired by a growing legion of fans including Tolstoy himself he had not yet succumbed to the ravages of tuberculosis he was a lively frank and funny correspondent and a dedicated mentor and as Bob Blaisdell discovers his vivid articles stories and plays from this period when read in conjunction with his correspondence become a psychological and emotional secret diary when Chekhov struggled with his increasingly fraught engagement young couples are continually making their raucous way in and out of relationships on the page when he was overtaxed by his medical duties his doctor characters explode or implode Chekhov's talented but drunken older brothers and Chekhov's domineering father became transmuted into characters yet their emergence from their families' serfdom is roiling beneath the surface Chekhov could crystalize the human foibles of the people he knew into some of the most memorable figures in literature and drama in Chekhov becomes Chekhov Blaisdell astutely examines the psychological portraits of Chekhov's distinct carefully observed characters and how they reflect back on their creator during a period when there seemed to be nothing between his imagination and the paper he was writing upon interviews with leading stage directors working in the American theater

This second volume quite by chance puts the emphasis far more on Mansfield's literary and intellectual friendships especially members of the Bloomsbury group. It includes letters to Sylvia Lynd, the Hon. Bertrand Russell, Sydney and Violet Schiff, Lytton Strachey, Leonard Woolf, Virginia Woolf and Hugh Walpole as well as those individuals who gathered around Lady Ottoline Morrell herself, the recipient of one of the largest number of letters in this volume at Garsington Manor with over twenty new letters not published in previous editions of her letters as well as substantial revisions and additions to a number of other letters accompanied by thoroughly researched annotations.
