can architecture directly engage with the inner experience of people does it have universal or spiritual content poetics in architecture attempts to address these questions by looking at the essence of meaning of architecture and considering the human response to buildings schaik s concern is that by focusing on technical refinements and new procedural models architects are in danger of alienating the collective human connections we make with buildings this title brings together the views of a fascinating and diverse group of architects and theoreticians from all over the world including bolles wilson boyarsky wilson winka dubbledam sean godsell mark goulthorpe of decoi and tom kovac

the present book examines william carlos williams s negotiation with cultural modes and systems of the chinese landscape tradition in his landscape writing focusing on walliams s landscape modes of landscape with out infused emotions the book builds a linkage between their interactions with chinese landscape aesthetics and shows how these conversations helped shape williams s cross cultural landscape poetics the exploration of williams s experiment with the chinese serene interplay of self and landscape the interfusion of scene and emotion an idea of seeing from the perspective of wang guowei s theory of jingjie and the poetic space of frustration and completion in the context of space and human geography expand the understanding of a cross cultural landscape tradition developed by williams through bringing into focus the convergence of east west poetics adopting artist poet joe brainard as its principal focus this project presents pop poetics not as a minor coterie movement meriting a sympathetic footnote in accounts of the postwar era s literary history but as a missing link that confounds and potentially unites any number of supposedly rigid critical distinctions authenticity versus formalism the personal versus the mechanical pop poetics matter argues andrew fitch not just to the occasional aficionado of brainard s i remember but to anybody concerned with reconstructing the dynamic aesthetic exchange between postwar art and poetry gaston bachelard one of twentieth century france s most original thinkers is known by english language readers primarily as the author of the poetics of space and several other books on the imagination but he made significant contributions to the philosophy and history of science in this book roch c smith provides a comprehensive introduction to bachelard s work demonstrating how his writings on the literary imagination can be better understood in the context of his exploration of how knowledge works in science after an overview of bachelard s writings on the scientific mind as it was transformed by relativity quantum physics and modern chemistry smith examines bachelard s works on the imagination in light of particular intellectual values bachelard derived from science his trajectory from science to a specifically literary imagination is traced by recognizing his concern with what science teaches about how we know and his increasing preoccupation with questions of being when dealing with poetic imagery smith also explores the material and dynamic imagination
