topless bars casino gambling needle exchange programs for drug addicts there s no question morality issues remain front and center in urban politics presenting a systematic analysis of culture war issues at the local level elaine sharp shows how american cities deal with these ongoing concerns drawing on a sample of ten strategically chosen cities she explains differences in how municipalities respond to controversies surrounding sex business abortion clinics legalized gambling gay rights and drug use by analyzing the relative importance of subculture economics and institutional arrangements in the disputes she points the way toward richer and more complete understanding of how different cities respond differently to these hot button issues far more than a statistical study morality politics in american cities is a collection of fascinating stories of real people grappling with down to earth issues and real life drama richly informative case studies that will captivate students and interested citizens alike mayors public health directors activists and others speak their minds about the pros and cons of these controversies here are officials in one city confronting the vatican over funding for abortion services those in another battling a local university over its refusal to provide health benefits to gay partners of faculty members and still others mounting a massive community sponsored attack on topless clubs these stories provide detailed evidence to support classifications needed for comparing cities experience with each of the five morality issues they also corroborate inferences drawn from the comparisons by showing what considerations were in play as local officials grappled with these issues overall the study shows that cultural factors usually dominate policymaking in local politics except when specific economic interests are at stake and also observes that county level governments are more important than previously thought in terms of morality issue decisions as provocative as it is informative morality politics in american cities demonstrates that such issues same sex marriage for example are multidimensional and often difficult to resolve its conclusions however contingent mark an important step in the ongoing process of understanding important differences in approaches to these issues and clearly show how moral conflicts continue to define american politics

american educators love to tout how standardized test scores keep going up presumably that means that students are learning something but how can we say that we have an educated adult population regardless of their test scores when they select donald trump to be president i use the word select advisedly because trump came nearly three million votes short of actually winning the popular vote but he won the anachronistic oddity that we have called the electoral college in political introverts how empathetic voters can help save american politics we will examine how two keys to cleaning up our political system so that we do not continue the pattern of electing the likes of nixon g w bush or trump are a to welcome more introverts particularly those who currently are not voting into our political process and b to overhaul our educational system so that empathy trumps test scores in so many ways politics is like a circus and campaigns are designed to reflect that this means that more often than not candidates need to be show persons dealing with what is entertaining but not necessarily informative or enriching introverts prefer to consider issues as important as political decisions with more quiet with more thought with more time to reflect but because political introverts are not squeaky wheels they are rarely heard if the system is more welcoming to introverts and if political introverts are willing to engage in ways whereby they can still stay in their lanes we can bring more thoughtful consideration to politics and improve the quality of our leaders but that is not enough we need to make changes in our educational system so that empathy a key to responsible government can flourish the key to these changes is attracting new kinds of teachers into the classrooms ones who by nature who are empathetic who care more about the personal growth of students than their test scores the educational bureaucracy as we know it will have to wither away and be replaced by an informality in schools where learning and enjoyment go hand in hand when that happens schools will be preparing a much wiser electorate
