containing more than fifty essays by major literary scholars international postmodernism divides into four main sections the volume starts off with a section of eight introductory studies dealing with the subject from different points of view followed by a section that deals with postmodernism in other arts than literature while a third section discusses renovations of narrative genres and other strategies and devices in postmodernist writing the final and fourth section deals with the reception and processing of postmodernism in different parts of the world three important aspects add to the special character of international postmodernism the consistent distinction between postmodernity and postmodernism equal attention to the making and diffusion of postmodernism and the workings of literature in general and the focus on the text and the reader i.e. the reader's knowledge, experience, interests and competence as crucial factors in text interpretation. This comprehensive study does not expressly focus on American postmodernism, although American interpretations of postmodernism are a major point of reference. The recognition that varying literary and cultural conditions in this world are bound to produce endless varieties of postmodernism made the editors Hans Bertens and Douwe Fokkema opt for the title International Postmodernism.

A comprehensive and interdisciplinary overview of this essential debate. Philosophy, critical theory, a comprehensive and interdisciplinary overview of this essential debate. No longer is there one postmodernism joining the modern/postmodern debate at a critical juncture. Wayne Gabardi suggests that the polarizing polemics of the radical postmodernists have given way to a new critical postmodernism characterized by dialogue, accommodation and synthesis. Negotiating postmodernism marks the arrival of a powerful critical presence on the scene, one that advances the idea of a late modern/postmodern social and cultural transition from the battle lines drawn between neo-Marxist writers and postmodernists in the early sixties to the shifting positions staked out in the eighties and nineties. Gabardi identifies the salient features of the evolving discussion and searches out common ground for the contending parties, engaging the work of contemporary social and political thinkers from Lyotard and Bauman to Giddens and Habermas, from Heidegger and Arendt to Foucault and Wolin. Gabardi provides a comprehensive overview and interpretation while offering major theoretical propositions regarding the future of democracy. Translation inquiries. University of Minnesota Press.
