it s a doozie set in a science fictional universe where climate change is fixed but people get killed via teleportation a young woman named anna huff has to

navigate her adolescence and a murder mystery it has a little bit of all the genres you love in combinations you've never imagined and it's easily the funniest thing we've read this year so far. gq drew magary's first posthumous novel is so good it's about big tech weird futures growing up and intriguingly for us the absurdity of on-demand global travel roads and kingdoms when the corporate monolith portsys brought porting to the masses. ceo emilia kirsch and her son jason accomplished what every other startup company had failed to deliver: they really did change the world. they reversed climate change. they created a multitrillion-dollar industry out of thin air, curing economic woes across the globe. they made it so that anyone could be anywhere simply by touching a screen, including the man who murdered sarah huff. now sarah's 17-year-old sister anna is determined to hunt the bastard down, but there are a few problems: she doesn't know who the killer is or where in the world he may be at any given moment. also, she's stuck at prestigious druskin academy where portphones are banned and any student who attempts to port off campus is immediately expelled. it gets stickier: anna's also fallen in love with her dazzling new roommate who just so happens to be emilia kirsch's daughter, lara. the dean of students wants anna dead, perhaps literally, and she has only two friends to confide in: one, a reckless alcoholic, and the other, a bizarre fustbudget. oh, and now she also needs to find lara, who has mysteriously disappeared from campus. from the author of The Postmortal and The Hike comes his most deliriously entertaining novel. yet point b is the story of one clever and occasionally determined young woman seeking both love and vengeance, but hardly ready for those two missions to intersect. it takes you to vietnam, hollywood, singapore, tokyo, inland mexico, oxford, the maldives, cuba, the coast of northeast australia, and all points beyond. you will find yourself plunged into a borderless, chaotic, oddly miraculous world that is ruled by a single bloodless corporation and by a family determined to keep it that way, but portsys never expected anna huff, and anna huff never expected love to make her this daring.

a fascinating, darkly funny comeback story of learning to live with a broken mind after a near-fatal traumatic brain injury from the acclaimed author of The Hike, drew magary has produced a remarkable account of his journey, one that is filled with terror, tenderness, beauty, and grace. david grann, bestselling author of Killers of the Flower Moon, drew magary fan favorite, defector, and former Deadspin columnist is known for his acerbic takes and his surprisingly nuanced chronicling of his own life. but in the night, the lights went out. he finds himself far out of his depths. on the night of the 2018 Deadspin awards, he suffered a mysterious fall that caused him to smash his head so hard on a cement floor that he cracked his skull in three places and suffered a catastrophic brain hemorrhage. for two weeks, he remained in a coma. the world was gone to him, and him to it. in his long recovery from his injury, including understanding what his family and friends went through as he lay there dying, coming to terms with his now permanent disabilities, and trying to find some lesson in this cosmic accident, he leaned on the one sure thing that he knows, and that didn't leave him: his writing. drew takes a deep dive into what it meant to be a bystander to his own death and figuring out who this new drew is: a drew that doesn't walk as well, doesn't taste or smell or see or hear as well, and a drew that is often failing as a husband and a father as he bounces between grumpiness, irritability, and existential fury. but what's a good comeback story without heartbreak? eager to get back what he lost, drew experiences an awakening of a whole other kind. in this incredibly funny, medically illuminating, and heartfelt memoir.
