if you can identify the patterns that provide people with career growth what's stopping you from jumping to conclusions and growing up a little people can be divided into two conditional categories those who have overcome and achieved each of the success trends and those who consider it a form of success fight by the former i don't mean accumulating wealth or being the best in any serious profession by no means do i use the word victory in the best sense the way my grandparents used to say a healthy and happy person really enjoys life those for whom the meaning of life is a struggle who struggle are often unhappy and enjoying life has a distorted meaning what is the secret answer choose each of us takes certain steps and actions some make us unhappy others happy i've come to the conclusion that if we follow at least a few ground rules we'll be more successful and avoid problems more easily what are these rules i deduced them based on my personal observations i decided that those who follow the rules are bound to be happy on the contrary the loser as it happens does nothing but defeat them people who are really successful are often unaware that they are playing by the rules as they react at your whim and those who possess this intelligence spend their lives in fruitless search for the philosopher's stone which alone without their participation should fill the void around them it doesn't occur to the non-intuitive to think about the reasons for failure and who knows change their behavior is it really that simple of course life in general something complicated to achieve results it is necessary to overcome difficulties but and this is the best of our rules they are all simple and easy to follow
