in this moving account of his struggles with manic depressive disorder distinguished philosopher robert s corrington creator of the school of ecstatic naturalism presents a compelling argument for rethinking the nature of this malady having inherited the disorder from his mother a gifted actress who struggled with her own form of it until her death he developed crucial survival strategies that he recommends to other sufferers in riding the windhorse corrington details the latest medical psychological and spiritual thinking about bipolar disease a disorder characterized by extreme mood swings and responsible for many untimely deaths each year surprisingly however manic depression is also found in almost all forms of genius and corrington presents two detailed case studies showing this correlation riding the windhorse represents one person s eventual triumph over a potentially crippling disease by demonstrating how creativity and the quest for wholeness can support the erratic flight of the windhorse of manic depression no other person who has flown in space has captured the experience so vividly new york times book review in july 1969 neil armstrong buzz aldrin and michael collins piloted the apollo 11 spacecraft to the moon fifty years later it is still one of the greatest achievements in human history in this remarkable memoir michael collins conveys in a very personal way the drama beauty and humour of that adventure he also traces his development from his first flight experiences in the air force through his days as a test pilot to his involvement in project gemini and his first spaceflight on gemini 10 he presents an evocative picture of the famous apollo 11 spacewalk detailing the joys of flight and a new perspective on time light and movement from someone who has seen the fragile earth from the other side of the moon updated with a new preface to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the moon landing carrying the fire by michael collins is the utterly absorbing and truly compelling classic account of what it was like to be a member of the apollo 11 mission to the moon
