this is the more expensive color version of this book for those who don t know in the back are 50 pieces of original artwork that look gorgeous buy this if you are one of those artists and want to show off to your family or if you simply want the best version of this book this book answers two questions how do ideas travel and how do i make my ideas travel the first question is interesting because the answer is emotions the more emotionally arousing an idea is the more talkative it makes people and the farther it gets learning the how s and why s takes us through discussions of the beatles andy warhol god himself einstein ancient greeks and a whole bunch of other bright spots in history it s a tale as old as time the second question is interesting because as creators we want our work to be seen the self fulfillment and fun of creating is a personal thing that needs no audience but at a certain point many of us would like to hear people s reactions and know that we re making impressions and maybe even a few bucks in that case the second question really becomes how do we make our creations emotionally arousing this is when the super fun begins we flex our empathy and make our imagination more vivid and our individuality more individual welcome to the second half of the book if you follow me on instagram adviceforartists you already know my writing style this book is that style times a hundred we are getting creative full of appreciation insight and non stop curiosity about life mixed with future looking optimism and art history references all in drum roll please plain readable language useful writing that is readable oh my god yes a breakthrough it's not indecipherably poetic or sleep inducingly academic putting wings on ideas reads like your best friend explaining things over dinner buy this book if you want to be inspired and simultaneously understand the world better after reading you'll know how to affix wings and bring into existence things you like chapters include developing the imagination empathizing with the audience creating moments and many more this is my favorite book on creativity there are other top dogs like zen in the art of writing by ray bradbury art of acting by stella adler keith haring's diary and elements of style by e b white but this book takes the cake it's all of those book's best characteristics plus more if you're familiar with them you will catch references maybe it's more accurate to say this book is an offspring of those a proud student and next generation multi disciplinary catch all that wants to instigate a renaissance among all types of creators yeah that sounds better happy reading

i call this book the intent to live because great actors don't seem to be acting they seem to be actually living larry moss from the introduction when oscar winning actors helen hunt and hilary swank accepted their academy awards each credited larry moss's guidance as key to their career making performances there is a two year waiting list for his advanced acting classes but now everyone professionals and amateurs alike can discover moss's passionate in depth teaching inviting you to join him in the classroom and onstage moss shares the techniques he has developed over thirty years to help actors set their emotions imagination and behavior on fire showing how the hard work of preparation pays off in performances that are spontaneous fresh and authentic from the foundations of script analysis to the nuances of physicalization and sensory work here are the case studies exercises and insights that enable you to connect personally with a script develop your character from the inside out overcome fear and inhibition and master the technical skills required for success in the theater television and movies far more than a handbook the intent to live is the personal credo of a master teacher moss's respect for actors and love of the actor's craft enliven every page together with examples from a wealth of plays and films both current and classic and vivid appreciations of great performances whether you act for a living or simply want a deeper understanding of acting greatness the intent to live will move instruct and inspire you
