between the 1890s and the 1930s movie going became an established feature of everyday life across america movies constituted an enormous visual data bank and changed the way artist and public alike interpreted images this book explores modern painting as a response to and an appropriation of the aesthetic possibilities pried open by cinema from its invention until the outbreak of world war ii when both the art world and the film industry changed substantially artists were watching movies filmmakers studied fine arts the membrane between media was porous allowing for fluid exchange each chapter focuses on a suite of films and paintings broken down into facets and then reassembled to elucidate the distinctive art film nexus at successive historic moments explores the complex relationship between american art and the new medium of film

David Bordwell and Kristin Thompson are two of America's preeminent film scholars you would be hard pressed to find a serious student of the cinema who hasn't spent at least a few hours huddled with their seminal introduction to the field Film Art now in its ninth edition or a cable television junkie unaware that the independent film channel sagely christened them the critics of the naughts since launching their blog Observations on Film Art in 2006 the two have added web virtuosos to their growing list of accolades pitching unconventional long form pieces engaged with film artistry that have helped to redefine cinematic storytelling for a new age and audience minding movies presents a selection from over three hundred essays on genre movies art films animation and the business of hollywood that have graced Bordwell and Thompson's blog informal pieces conversational in tone but grounded in three decades of authoritative research the essays gathered here range from in depth analyses of individual films such as Slumdog Millionaire and Inglourious Basterds to adjustments of hollywood media claims and forays into cinematic humor for Bordwell and Thompson the most fruitful place to begin is how movies are made how they work and how they work on us written for film lovers these essays on topics ranging from Borat to blockbusters and back again will delight current fans and gain new enthusiasts serious but not solemn vibrantly informative without condescension and above all illuminating reading Minding Movies offers ideas sure to set film lovers thinking and keep them returning to the silver screen since the 1990s the expropriation of canonical works of cinema has been a fundamental dimension of art film exploration rainer werner fassbinder provides an early model of open adaptation of film classics followed ever more boldly by the coen brothers chantal akerman alex carax todd haynes florian henckel von donnersmarck baz luhrmann and olivier assayas this book devotes chapters to each of these directors to examine how their films redeploy landmark precursors such as city lights 1931 citizen kane 1941 rome open city 1945 all about eve 1950 and vertigo 1958 in order to probe our psychological philosophical and historical situations in a postmodern societé du spectacle in broadly diverse ways each of these directors complicates received notions of the past and its representation while probing the transformative media evolution and dislocation of the present in film art and in society art cinema has for over fifty years defined how audiences and critics imagine film outside hollywood but surprisingly little scholarly attention has been paid to the concept since the 1970s and yet in the last thirty years art cinema has flourished worldwide the emergence of east asian and latin american new waves the reinvigoration of european film the success of iranian directors and the rise of the film festival have transformed the landscape of world cinema this book brings into focus art cinema's core internationalism demonstrating its centrality to understanding film as a global phenomenon the book reassesses the field of art cinema in light of recent scholarship on world film cultures in addition to analysis of key regions and films the essays cover topics including theories of the film image industrial aesthetic and political histories and art film's intersections with debates on genre sexuality new media forms and postcolonial cultures global art cinema brings together a diverse group of scholars in a timely conversation that reaffirms the category of art cinema as relevant provocative and in fact fundamental to contemporary film studies kilbourn provides a comparative theorization of the representation of memory in both mainstream and international cinema within an increasingly transnational context of production and reception he sees cinema as providing the viewer with not only the content and form of memory but also the art of memory often forgotten among the actors directors producers and others associated with filmmaking art directors are responsible for making movies visually appealing to audiences as such they sometimes make the difference between a hit and a bomb this biographical dictionary includes not only the world s great and almost great artists but the unjustly neglected film designers of the past and present among the more than 300 art directors and designers are pioneers from silent films designers from hollywood and europe s golden ages asian figures post golden age personalities leaders of the european and american new waves and many contemporary designers each entry consists of biographical information an analysis of the director s career and important films and an extensive filmography including mentions of academy award nominations and winners this two volume work approaches the films as works of art with notations of prevailing critical response each major film coverage begins with a data block giving dates and personnel for example so that the textual material can move directly to substantive aspects
