why do people work hard and take pride in what they do this book a philosophically minded enquiry into practical activity of many different kinds past and present is about what happens when people try to do a good job it asks us to think about the true meaning of skill in the skills society and argues that pure competition is a poor way to achieve quality work sennett suggests instead that there is a craftsman in every human being which can sometimes be enormously motivating and inspiring and can also in other circumstances make individuals obsessive and frustrated the craftsman shows how history has drawn fault lines between craftsman and artist maker and user technique and expression practice and theory and that individuals pride in their work as well as modern society in general suffers from these historical divisions but the past lives of crafts and craftsmen show us ways of working using tools acquiring skills thinking about materials which provide rewarding alternative ways for people to utilise their talents we need to recognise this if motivations are to be understood and lives made as fulfilling as possible drawing on insights from the training practices of the english medieval craft guilds a global survey of 500 church planters interviews with artists and church planting trainers and the authors 30 years of ministry experience the craft of church planting offers a distinctive and imaginative perspective on the methods used to train future practitioners in the art of church planting demonstrating how training for the next generation of church planting leaders might be informed by the historic master apprentice model guild learning communities creativity and an artisan approach to ministry this book is a vital resource to inform the methods of training for the next generation of church planters across a range of jurisdictions in differing legal systems mediation is achieving evergreater institutional and statutory force and what not long ago was a marginal technique for dispute resolution is becoming mainstream and orthodox but how firm a sense do we have about the social formation we call mediation through reflections and case histories this distinctive collection of essays by experienced mediators from across the globe provides a clearer understanding than we have had heretofore of what mediation is and what it can offer as a practical accessible and positive alternative in civil justice systems the authors each address ways mediation has been or can be applied to dispute resolution in such pressing contexts as the following enduring and intense conflicts planning and environmental issues conflicts arising between refugee and host communities elder care intercultural settings online communication science based disputes and public policy disputes the questions raised as to access to justice identifying unmet needs improving the provision of services and fostering an ongoing conversation on mediation go well beyond the confines of commercial dispute resolution and the walls of courtrooms through the practical experiences described useful and insightful perspectives emerge on the practice principles and legitimacy of mediation these invaluable reports and reflections on the powerful resources that mediation and mediators can bring to the table will be welcomed by a diversity of legal practitioners and jurists as well as academics how do we explain china's tech rise in africa as africa's top phone seller the shenzhen based company transsion has profoundly shaped the continent's digital transformation by providing affordable yet feature rich mobile phones for the economically disadvantaged miao lu draws on rich fieldwork in china and ghana to delve into the company's operations and growing influence critiquing technology transfer lu focuses on design marketing and repair to illustrate the multi layered technology translations between china and ghana borrowing the metaphor of deep ploughing lu examines the rural centric and lower class oriented approach of translating mobile technology transsion challenges the cultural imagination of big tech but the company is also evolving into a regional power that's adept at marginalizing small players and increasing local dependence lu's analysis explores the complexity that shenzhen can act as silicon valley s south and africa s north simultaneously the middle space created by transsion bridges globalization from above and below which opens the door to new possibilities and inequalities in this book we show the replacement of academic and vocational education which is structured according to subject systems and oriented towards scientific knowledge by vocational action knowledge this work process knowledge is the basis for the acquisition of the design competence of vocational specialists which is becoming increasingly important in the world of work a modern knowledge concept based on vocational education is developed and documented in the first part of the book the concept of vocational knowledge is developed in the second part empirical results from comet projects are documented from which the vocational knowledge imparted in different occupations can be read there has been a confusing discussion about vocational knowledge for decades in 1991 the kmk agreed on a new concept for vocational education and training with the guiding idea of vocational design competence it remained open on which vocational knowledge this new guiding idea should be based up to now there has been no original vocational pedagogical justification for the vocational knowledge on which vocational design competence is based in most countries art education is not immune from a large scale reorganization educational institutions are increasingly required to operate as enterprises that compete for the best or the largest number of students and to express their objective and results in financial and management terms in short the field of education has become a market teaching art in the neoliberal realm investigates the effects of this setup on the content and practice of artistic education and the position of art and the artist 00 an exploration of public performance in everyday life by the leading cultural and social thinker the performer explores the relations between performing in art particularly music politics and everyday experience it focuses on the bodily and physical dimensions of performing rather than on words richard sennett is particularly attuned to the ways in which the rituals of ordinary life are performances the book draws on history and sociology and more personally on the author s early career as a professional cellist as well as on his later work as a city planner and social thinker it traces the evolution of performing spaces in the city the emergence of actors musicians and dancers as independent artists the inequality between performer and spectator the uneasy relations between artistic creation and social and religious ritual the uses and abuses of acting by politicians the janus faced art of performing is both destructive and civilizing this is the first in a trilogy of books on the fundamental dna of human expression performing narrating and imaging living with people who differ racially ethnically religiously or economically is one of the most difficult challenges facing us today though our society is becoming ever more complicated materially we tend to avoid engaging with people unlike ourselves modern politics emphasizes unity and similarity encouraging the politics of the tribe rather than of complexity together the rituals pleasures and politics of co operation explores why this has happened and what might be done about it sennett argues that living with people unlike ourselves requires more than goodwill it requires skill the foundations for skillful co operation lie in learning to listen well and to discuss rather than debate people who develop these capacities earn a reward they can take pleasure in the company of others together traces the evolution of cooperative rituals in medieval churches and guilds renaissance workshops and courts early modern laboratories and diplomatic embassies in our lives today it explains the trials and prospects of cooperation online face to face in ethnic conflicts among financial workers and community organizers exploring the nature of cooperation why it has become weak and how it could be strengthened this visionary book offers a new way of seeing how humans can live together building on richard sennetts recent work this books tries to clarify the ethical significance of craftsmanship according to sennett learning to work well is a deep source of personal meaning and of fruitful cooperation moreover provides the foundation of citizenship learning to master a craft is learning to be curious and patient to focus on relationships and learn the skills of anticipation and revision in a continual dialogue with material that resists quick fixes and turns the craftsman outward in the contemporary search for practically relevant perspectives that point beyond the moral poverty of a market driven society the ethics of craftsmanship thus offers an intriguing and fruitful perspective worth of in depth exploration this book contains the following chapters introduction craftsmanship and normative professionalization harry kunneman ed part i conceptual and practical questions 1 the corrosion of character and society sennett s quest for morality joseph dohmen 2 parenthood and professional work with parents in neoliberal times the need for a subjunctive and dialogical approach katie lee weille 3 parenting as craftsmanship moving between an awareness of being responsible and good parent experiences margreth hoek 4 the
