few are aware that since antiquity there has always been the philosophy of love at the core of western culture it articulates what makes life meaningful and worthwhile and how we can live a good life together through an ethic of love this book fills this significant gap not only reconnecting the reader with such important wisdom and more crucially also reorienting our socio economic institutions and collective actions towards more loving and caring and more concerned with the qualities of our lived experiences by re discovering the gifts of love we may challenge the existing systemic dehumanisation and draw from knowledge and understanding already present in our culture this is timely because the global crises we are facing are catastrophic especially when it comes to climate change therefore we must respond from a place of love rather than fear whether it is reducing the use of fossil fuels lowering greenhouse emission choosing the right food to eat or advocating for structural transformation our concerted endeavours start with an appropriate appreciation of the nature of our well being which includes the planet s well ness this book highlights a clear pathway forward to ensure collective healing and co flourishing with nature we must practise the art of loving the criteria for originality priority and authenticity used in textual criticism the study of the synoptic problem and historical jesus research share one basic similarity they were all designed to distinguish a prior tradition from its later developments all these areas of research investigate the transmission process which involves both preservation and alteration the sets of criteria used in one area are thus analogous to the sets of criteria used in the other two areas this assumption can be confirmed by observing numerous instances of such similarity in these sets of criteria on the basis of this assumption many other instances of similarity may be newly attained by adapting the set of criteria used in one area for use in the other two areas the sets of criteria for these three areas of research can be further generalized into a mother set of criteria which will provide us with a degree of methodological unification in these disciplines
