in this widely acclaimed collection of short stories the bestselling booker prize winning author of the sense of an ending addresses the most poignant aspect of the human condition growing old a master at work sweet sour bitter wistful ruminative comic elegiac a joy to read san francisco chronicle the characters in the lemon table are facing the ends of their lives some with bitter regret others with resignation and others still with defiant rage their circumstances are just as varied as their responses in 19th century sweden three brief conversations provide the basis for a lifetime of longing in today s england a retired army major heads into the city for his regimental dinner and his annual appointment with a professional lady named babs somewhere nearby a devoted wife calms or perhaps torments her ailing husband by reading him recipes in stories brimming with life and our desire to hang on to it one way or another barnes proves himself by turns wise funny clever and profound a writer of astonishing powers of empathy and invention literary ombudsman john crace never met an important book he didn't like to deconstruct from salman rushdie to john grisham crace retells the big books in just 500 biting satirical words pointing his pen at the clunky plots stylistic tics and pretensions of big ideas as he turns publishers golden dream books into dross exploring the archives of the man Booker prize winning novelist julian barnes including notebooks drafts typescripts and publishing correspondence this book is an extraordinary in depth study of the creative practice of a major contemporary novelist in julian barnes from the margins vanessa guignery charts the genesis and publication history of all of barnes's major novels from his debut with Metroland through Flaubert's Parrot and A History of the World in 10 1/2 Chapters to the sense of an ending this book addresses the narrative construction of russian cultural memory in the work of julian barnes it investigates how barnes's texts tend to display a memory process as a transcultural mode of the creation of english and russian national identities examining a need to revisit russian canonical works the detailed discursive analysis of the selected english texts exposes an intertextual remembering by duplication thus contributing to the prevention of forgetting through the recuperation of still misreclected cultural meanings by creatively incorporating russian intertextual elements into his work as a novelist the author seems to insist on sweeping across and beyond national boundaries revealing how frail the invention of tradition is when leading to the illusion of a solid collective memory and its political legitimation the book considers not only a constructive dialogue between barnes's fiction and russian classical literature but also this writer's interpretative mostly imaginative integration of russian literature and culture into his work as a novelist exploring the double meaning of a literary metaphor as a mnemonic image of memory and a product of imagination it offers a comprehensive analysis of barnes's texts which play with intertextuality as an efficient tool of displacement of official memory providing a deeper understanding of historical and cultural processes related to the constantly moving architecture of transcultural memory the essential companion for lovers of the contemporary novel over the past fifty years fiction in english has never looked more various books bulkier than victorian three deckers appear alongside works of minimalist brevity and experiments with form have produced everything from verse novels to twitter thread narratives this is truly a golden age but what unites this kaleidoscopic array of genres and styles celebrated writer and critic peter kemp shows how modern writers are obsessed with the past in a series of engaging and illuminating chapters retroland traces this novelistic preoccupation with history from the imperial and the political to the personal and the literary featuring famous names from across the united kingdom united states and the wider anglophone world ranging from salman rushdie to sarah waters toni morrison to hilary mantel this is a work of remarkable synthesis and clarity a wonderfully readable and enjoyably opinionated guide to our current literary landscape
