beginning with a general overview of film noir and covering its most important themes this illustrated handbook provides instant and in depth access to the film noir genre films covered include double indemnity kiss me deadly gun crazy criss cross and detour more than any other films from the classical era the hollywood film noir is known for its lighting film noir and the arts of lighting offers a new account of this craft grounded in a larger theory of cinematography as emotionally engaging storytelling featuring analyses of the asphalt jungle touch of evil and more despite a glut of black and white filters the digital revolution in videography has all but abandoned the art science beauty and power of cinematic lighting that literally illuminated the golden age of motion pictures film noir light and shadow explores an era before cgi a time when every photon mattered and the lighting of a set served a grander purpose than simply rendering its subjects visible edited by alain silver and james ursini the duo behind numerous critically acclaimed studies of other aspects of noir this anthology presents a series of essays that examine the visual style of the filmmakers of cinema s classic period some focus on individual pictures or directors others discuss elements of style or sub groups of movies within the movement all are sharply focused on what makes the noir phenomenon unique in american and global cinematic history aside from highlighting the innovative work of its editors and their late colleague robert porfirio film noir light and shadow also shares its light with a bevy of contributors who have written and edited their own books on the subject a list of luminaries that includes sheri chinen biesen shannon clute and richard edwards julie grossman delphine letort robert miklitsch r barton palmer homer pettey marlisa santos imogen sara smith and tony williams as befits the topic this volume is lavishly illustrated with 500 images that capture the richness and breadth of the classic period s imagery making it an ideal companion for students of the genre film historians sprocket fiends and the retrospectively inclined individual reviews of 90 films created and released before 1941 are included here in the first title by title reference guide to the forerunners of film noir silent hitchcock thrillers and german expressionist masterpieces french poetic realist dramas and forgotten hollywood b movies pseudo freudian gangster films and costume melodramas are among the works covered the collection spans subgenres and cultures of filmmaking aiming to demonstrate that the roots of noir were sown far and wide long before the lasting and mysterious genre flowered in america during the war years taking back desire studies film television and video art texts through a lacanian prism to restore a sense of queer as troubling identity and resistance to neoliberal forms of inclusion james lawrence slattery illuminates how the framing of desire identity enjoyment resistance and knowledge contribute to the investment in neoliberal formations of being and success despite the corrosive effects neoliberalism has had for much of society the book does not read queerness on screen as a discernible group of characters or narrative formulas but as a point that meaning fails in the visual and temporal field examining the interrelation of the real the imaginary and the symbolic in contemporary politics and contemporary media slattery investigates how a diverse selection of moving image texts forge queerness as a relationship to the lack while crucially resisting the creation of a new or definitive canon taking back desire will be essential reading for academics and scholars of freudian and lacanian psychoanalysis queer theory late capitalism film television and media studies sexuality studies critical race theory cultural studies and feminist theory rebecca prime documents the untold story of the american directors screenwriters and actors who exiled themselves to europe as a result of the hollywood blacklist during the 1950s and 1960s these hollywood émigrés directed wrote or starred in almost one hundred european productions their contributions ranging from crime film masterpieces like du rififi chez les hommes 1955 jules dassin director to international blockbusters like the bridge on the river kwai 1957 carl foreman and michael wilson screenwriters and acclaimed art films like the servant 1963 joseph losey director at once a lively portrait of a lesser known american lost generation and an examination of an important transitional moment in european cinema the book offers a compelling argument for the significance of the blacklisted émigrés to our understanding of postwar american and european cinema and cold war relations prime provides detailed accounts of the production and reception of their european films that clarify the ambivalence with which hollywood was regarded within postwar european culture drawing upon extensive archival research including previously classified material hollywood exiles in europe suggests the need to rethink our understanding of the hollywood blacklist as a purely domestic phenomenon by shedding new light on european cinema s changing relationship with hollywood the book illuminates the postwar shift from national to transnational cinema during their weekly boxing lesson maggie learns that herman s fiancée vera kowalski has dumped him and tasks maggie with finding out why edited by andrew spicer this is a groundbreaking study that identifies film noir and neo noir as an important aspect of european cinema one of the best known novels taking place in new jersey philip roth s 1997 american pastoral uses the fictional hamlet of old rimrock nj as a microcosm for a nation in crisis during the cultural upheavals of the 1960s 70s critics have called old rimrock mythic but it is based on a very real place the small morris county town of brookside new jersey american anti pastoral reads the events in roth s novel in relation to the history of brookside and its region while roth s protagonist seymour swede levov initially views old rimrock as an idyllic paradise within the garden state its real world counterpart has a more complex past in its origins as a small industrial village as well as a site for the politics of exclusionary zoning and a 1960s anti war protest at its celebrated 4th of july parade literary historian and brookside native thomas gustafson casts roth s canonical novel in a fresh light as he studies both old rimrock in comparison to brookside and the novel in relationship to nj literature making a case for it as the great new jersey novel for roth fans and history buffs alike american anti pastoral peels back the myths about the bucolic garden state countryside to reveal deep fissures along the fault lines of race and religion in american democracy this work presents 369 british films produced between 1937 and 1964 that embody many of the same filmic qualities as those black films made in the united states during the classic film noir era this reference work makes a case for the inclusion of the british films in the film noir canon which is still considered by some to be an exclusively american inventory in the book s main section the following information is presented for each film a quote from the film the title and release date a rating based on the five star system the production company director cinematographer screenwriter and main performers and a plot synopsis with author commentary appendices categorize films by rating release date director and cinematographer and also provide a noir and non noir breakdown of the 47 films presented on the edgar wallace mystery theatre a 1960s british television series that was also shown in the united states hollywood showed its dark side in the 1940s and 50s with a wave of highly stylized movies featuring sinister plots shady characters sexual tension chaos and confusion these films have fascinated critics students moviegoers and moviemakers ever since classics including the maltese falcon the big sleep and the postman always rings twice are analysed with iconic actors such as robert mitchum and legendary directors including alfred hitchcock stanley kubrick and orson welles profiled a wide ranging and idiosyncratic look at sixty years of politics and film that uncovers how american movies have mirrored and even challenged anxieties and paranoid perceptions embedded in american society since the start of the cold war the first book to take a sweeping look at 60 years of film and analyze them thematically
