includes 15 maps and plans in 1914 the scots guards third regiment of foot guards consisted of two battalions both in england and two week after the outbreak of war the 3rd reserve battalion was formed this battalion did not go abroad but during the course of the war it provided drafts of 11 201 all ranks for the 1st and 2nd battalions the 1st battalion went to france with the 1st gds brigade 1st division on 14 august and served on the western front throughout the war the 2nd battalion joined the 20th brigade of the 7th division when it formed in september 1914 and landed in belgium on 7 october 1914 and also served on the western front for the whole of the war losses numbered 111 officers and 2730 other ranks 30 battle honours and 5 vcs were awarded in august 1915 the guards division was formed in france and both battalions were transferred to it the 1st to the 2nd guards brigade the 2nd to 3rd guards brigade this book is set out in chronological order and though the battalions were not in the same division during the first twelve months of the war their actions are not recorded under separate headings thus both battalions were in action during first ypres and they both appear in the chapter covering that battle apart from war diaries there are extracts from letters and other contributions from those who were there making up the narrative and the result is a plain straightforward account from time to time the list of officers present in both battalions is given as are the names of those who became casualties during any specific action print ed the scots guards can trace their history back to 1642 when the regiment was raised as the king s lifeguard of foot by the marquis of argyll from those early beginnings the scots guards have played a pivotal role in the history of the british army they fought on many different battlefields from the battle of namurin to waterloo going through various name changes the regiment became known as the scots guards in 1877 and fought at telel kebir in 1882 mahdi in 1885 and the boer war at the first battle of ypres the regiment lost three quarters of its strength and won five vcs on the western front in the second world war scots guards fought in norway north africa italy and from normandy to the baltic post war the regiment has fought in malaya sues borneo and in the falklands its history is one of perseverance of great bravery and of privation in time of war its troops have served britain for five centuries which is a record few can match within the pages of the scots guards are over 200 images of the regiment and its men at their best in battle and in play and the images and accompanying text are a unique record of a

excerpt when the archduke francis ferdinand of austria was assassinated at sarajevo in serbia on june 28 1914 it never for a moment occurred to any one in this country that the crime could in any way affect the destinies of the first or grenadier regiment of footguards no one dreamed that before another year had passed not only would the three battalions be fighting in a european war but there would even be a 4th battalion at the front in addition to a 5th reserve battalion of almost unwieldy proportions even when austria began to show her teeth it still seemed an incident quite beyond our horizon if austria and serbia did come to blows great britain was not even indirectly involved and the british army therefore remained unmoved the balkan peoples were constantly in a state of warlike commotion but their troubles hardly affected the great british empire the war clouds that from time to time darkened the european sky had hitherto always been dispersed more than once of late years the german emperor had rattled his sword 2in the scabbard and talked or telegraphed to the very limits of indiscretion but nothing had ever come of it nor did it seem at all probable that the assassination of an austrian archduke could be made the pretext for a european conflagration max benitz reports from the frontline of a highly controversial war in a perceptive and revealing account of several months spent in afghanistan with this world famous infantry battalion training with them and living amongst them as they undertake their tour in helmand province benitz gives a unique insight into the pressures faced by those who risk their lives every second of the day in one of the most dangerous places on earth fascinating and illuminating the scots guards in afghanistan reveals new insights into the war raging in afghanistan and the men and women who bravely serve there for the british forces
