this book commemorates the 10 years of the international school leadership development network isldn it provides a comprehensive overview of studies on social justice leadership and high needs schools featuring research from 19 countries the volume offers practical strategies for school leaders and examines the project's contributions the change in paradigm in our field is away from the great man or woman theory of leadership and the teacher in his or her own classroom to the development of learning communities which value differences and support critical reflection and encourage members to question challenge and debate teaching and learning issues how to achieve such learning communities is far from clear but we believe the areas of problem based learning pbl and organizational learning ol offer valuable clues the indications are that the successful educational restructuring agenda depends on teams of leaders whole staffs and school personnel working together i e ol linking evidence and practice in genuine collaboration i e pbl the book is unique in that it is both about and uses these two concepts the book is made up of four sections 1 an introductory rational in which the case for using only quality evidence in school reform efforts is argued results from a quality research project are then presented these results are organised around six questions how is the concept of ol defined in schools teacher voice what leadership practices promote ol in schools teacher voice what are some outcomes of schooling other than academic achievement pupil voice what are the relationships between the non academic and academic outcomes of schooling does school leadership and or organisational learning contribute to student outcomes and what other factors contribute to student outcomes the section concludes with a plea that given the accumulation and consistent quality of the evidence from across systems and countries we no longer need to involve ourselves with just impressions of effective leadership we have a way forward that links leadership to organisational learning and improved student outcomes 2 advice for using the book the reasons for the choice of problem based learning as the vehicle for the professional development materials that form the major part of this book are detailed suggestions are then made for use of the book including a one day and two day workshop and advice on group development and warm up activities for such group development before moving to the problem based learning package in section 3 3 a problem based learning evidence informed professional development package for aspiring and actual school leaders based on real schools and their leaders 4 a challenge the final section provides refined versions of the diagnostic instruments used in the research and challenges readers to use them in their own schools the book concludes with the references used and a list of other readings this book will help educational leaders and aspiring educational leaders to examine their own values and practice copublished with corwin press this book examines current themes in educational leadership considers the dimensions of various types of leadership and includes contributions from internationally recognized leading authors on the subject educational leadership and organizational management linking theories to practice is intended for students leaders and managers who wish to explore the personal relevance and conceptual bases of educational leadership and organizational management and to develop their expertise in this field it is a book written for both scholars and practitioners there are two goals in the experiential learning process one is to learn the specifics of a particular subject matter in this case educational leadership and organizational management the other is to learn about one's own strengths and weaknesses as a learner educational leadership and organizational management is focused on the analysis of prevalent theories and concepts and their application to the development of leadership and management skills and the knowledge and attitudes required to solve real world problems in the workplace leading schools is becoming almost daily a more complex and demanding job connecting leadership and learning reassesses the purpose of schools the nature of learning and the qualities of leadership that make schools authentic places of learning starting with a review of what we can claim to know and not know about learning leadership and their inter relationship this book explores what it means to lead schools that place learning at the centre drawing on research from seven different country projects including the united states australia and five european countries the authors offer five key principles for practice a focus of learning an environment for learning a learning dialogue shared leadership accountability internal and external these key principles have been tested by teachers senior leaders and school students and found to be applicable across cultural and linguistic boundaries the challenges faced by in inner city schools whether in london or new jersey prove a stern test for the five principles yet as these schools testify they bring a new sense of hope and resolve that learning is for everyone based on rigorous research yet thoroughly grounded in practice this book aims to challenge the reader with big ideas about learning and leadership and to break new ground in thinking about where leadership and learning meet so that practitioners can see how it works in school and classroom practice it should be of interest to all school leaders and those aspiring to the role the field of educational leadership and management originated and grew to maturity in the western societies of the usa uk and australia however since the mid 1990s scholars in east asia have asserted the need to ground leadership theories and practices in the local contexts in which school leaders practice mastering theories of educational leadership and management is one of the first volumes published which seeks to do this the edited chapters illustrate and elaborate how perspectives on key concepts and theories of educational leadership are being interpreted and enacted in east asian societies by doing so the book makes a valuable contribution which will hopefully reduce the gap between theories as explained by western scholars and practices as enacted in east asian societies professor dr philip hallinger drawing together current thinking and research by leading writers in the field this reader will help you to understand and critically analyse key strategic aspects of educational leadership including leadership perspectives and values external and internal contexts autonomy and accountability partnership and collaboration leading strategy and change the book explores major challenges for educational leaders in managing the increasingly permeable boundary between educational organisations and their external contexts and reconciling environmental expectations and internal priorities the reader will encourage you to positively problematize the field and reflect on current debates and issues this book will be an essential resource for providers and students of postgraduate level courses in educational leadership and management as well as those involved in undertaking professional development programmes it will also serve the reflective practitioner as personal reference when occupying or aspiring towards leadership roles in schools colleges and other educational organisations dr maggie preedy professor nigel bennett and dr christine wise have taught researched and published widely in the field of educational leadership and management maggie preedy and christine wise are senior lecturers in the faculty of education and language studies at the open university uk nigel bennett is emeritus professor of leadership and management in education at the open university educational leadership and the community has been written in conjunction with the community education department cedc and offers you different approaches to educational leadership which are focused on community engagement and social regeneration originally published in 1984 the argument of this book is that the preceding 12 to 15 years saw significant changes in educationalists understanding and application of the concepts of leadership and because of these changes two things happened one the relationship between participants changed and two policy and practice also changed the papers in this collection have been specially commissioned or collected together with this thesis in mind each of them examines leadership with special reference to one or more aspects sectors roles or interests within the educational system of england and wales
