this volume provides a broad cross section of merton s work as an essayist collecting pieces that are characteristic examples of his astonishing output and the fantastic breadth of his interests the essays range from the wisdom of the desert fathers to the novels of faulkner and camus from interreligious dialogue to racial justice this volume gathers together twelve essays that thomas merton wrote for various journals between 1947 and 1952 the years that saw the publication of his best selling autobiography the seven storey mountain his ordination to the priesthood and his initial appointment as spiritual and intellectual guide of the young monks at the abbey of gethsemani the essays most of which have never been reprinted focus above all on aspects of the contemplative life but also consider the spiritual dimensions of literature and the social implications of christian life issued to coincide with the one hundredth anniversary of his birth this collection brings to fruition at long last merton s own original plan of publishing these essays as a group and so makes available a previously little recognized and underutilized resource for understanding and appreciating a crucial transitional phase in his life as both monk and writer thinking is a dynamic process resulting from practices of integration thought encounters in openness wonder receptivity and contemplation confer upon us intellectual work that is uniquely our own digital patterns however distract us from these creative encounters our intellectual searching is weakened and fragmented by frenetic consumption of information we miss out on reason s innate pull toward integration and concrete reality this book is an invitation to enter into openness wonder receptivity and contemplation with deeper understanding and intentionality we can do this by considering exemplars persons who lived out the integrity of their hard won beliefs each process of integration is applied also so that practical knowledge and practice become a way into this intellectual restoration we need deeper knowledge won in the slow orbit of encounters encounters in thought are precisely what each generation needs to apprehend the cosmos nature authority truth and moral action responsibility to this ecologic age requires a reform of reason this book is just one attempt to convey a way toward this restoration in thomas merton and the noonday demon donald grayson transforms a long neglected cache of letters found in an ancient monastery into a book that offers new insight into the author of these letters thomas merton the renowned spiritual writer at the time of their writing the mid 1950s he was living as a trappist monk at the abbey of gethsemani in kentucky having reached an impasse in his monastic vocation he decided to leave getsamani for the monastery of camaldoli in italy camaldoli at that time bucolic and peaceful outwardly was inwardly riven by a pre vatican ii culture war whereas gethsemani which he tried so hard to leave became when he was given his hermitage there in 1965 his place to recover eden in walking with merton on this journey and reading the letters he wrote and received at the time we find ourselves asking as he did with so much energy and honesty the deep questions that we may well need to answer in our own lives this book argues that nature mysticism is an excellent source for building an ecological ethic that takes seriously the human responsibility in creation
