thomas sankara a revolutionary in cold war africa offers the first complete biography in english of the dynamic revolutionary leader from burkina faso thomas sankara coming to power in 1983 sankara set his sights on combating social injustice poverty and corruption in his country fighting for women s rights direct forms of democracy economic sovereignty and environmental justice drawing on government archival sources and over a hundred interviews with sankara s family members friends and closest revolutionary colleagues brian j peterson details sankara s political career and rise to power as well as his assassination at age 37 in 1987 in a plot led by his close friend Blaise Compaoré Thomas Sankara a revolutionary in cold war Africa offers a unique critical appraisal of Sankara and explores why he generated such enthusiasm and hope in Burkina Faso and beyond why he was such a polarizing figure how his rivals seized power from him and why t-shirts sporting his image still appear on the streets today thirty two years after his assassination Thomas Sankara's name remains appealing throughout Africa and beyond the revolutionary leader's legacy consists of a call to unity self-confidence and good governance to the world's leaders Sankara's concern for the less advantaged might serve as a reminder that sacrifice to humanity is a yardstick for assessing good leadership looking back at Sankara's dynamic and visionary presidency might his revolutionary spirit be relevant to Burkina Faso and to the African continent today as it was then on August 4 1983 Captain Thomas Sankara led a coalition of radical military officers communist activists labor leaders and militant students to overtake the government of the Republic of Upper Volta almost immediately following the coup's success the small West African country renamed Burkina Faso or land of the dignified people gained international attention as it charted a new path toward social economic cultural and political development based on its people's needs rather than external pressures and cold war politics James E. Genova's Making New People: Politics, Cinema, and Liberation in Burkina Faso 1983-1987 recounts in detail the revolutionary government's rise and fall demonstrating how it embodied the critical transition period in modern African history between the era of decolonization and the dawning of neoliberal capitalism it also uncovers one of the revolution's most enduring and significant aspects its promotion of film as a vehicle for raising the people's consciousness inspiring their efforts at social transformation and articulating a new self-generated image of Africa and Africans foregrounding film and drawing evocative connections between Sankara's political philosophy and Frantz Fanon's Making New People provides a deeply nuanced explanation for the revolution's lasting influence throughout Africa and the world focusing on individual political thinkers and beginning with indigenous African political thought the book successively examines African nationalism African socialism populism and Marxism Africanism and Pan-Africanism concluding with contemporary perspectives on democracy development and the African state the Palgrave Encyclopedia of Imperialism and Anti-Imperialism objectively presents the prominent themes epochal events theoretical explanations and historical accounts of imperialism from 1776 to the present it is the most historically and academically comprehensive examination of the subject to date
