fides in flavian literature explores the ideology of good faith fides during the time of the emperors vespasian titus and domitian 69 96 ce the new imperial dynasty that gained power in the wake of the civil wars of the period the contributors to this volume consider the significance and semantic range of this roman value in works that deal in myth contemporary poetry and history in both prose and verse though it does not claim to offer the comprehensive last word on fides in flavian rome the book aims to show that fides in this period was subjected to a particularly striking and special brand of contestation and reconceptualization used to interrogate the broad cultural changes and anxieties of the flavian period as well as connect to a republican and imperial past the editors argue that fides was both a vehicle for reconciliation and a means to test the nature of good faith in the wake of a devastating and divisive period in roman history only four roman epic poems survive from the flavian period 69 96 ad valerius flaccus s argonautica statius s thebaid and achilleid and silius italicus s punica neil w bernstein argues that these poems contain depictions of kinship that are significantly different from earlier epic and examines these representations in the context of the social political and aesthetic changes of the early imperial period the author analyses various kinds of kinship including biological relationships elective relationships such as marriage and adoption and the symbolic bonds of social and political allegiances to illuminate the complex ways in which the roman upper class asserted their status with or without noble lineage a fresh and fascinating look at not only roman poetry but the epic tradition itself in the image of the ancestors is essential reading for classicists and literary historians differentiation and politicization the case of eu migration policy examines the implementation of differentiated integration in eu migration and asylum policy the research seeks to expand and deepen on the conceptual and factual interaction among core state powers politicization the rise of euroscepticism the public constraining dissent and the application of different forms of polarity within eu legal framework eleftheria markozani argues that growing euroscepticism may not only generate the application of opt outs of particular member states as previous research has also shown instead she supports that the coincidental increase of politicization of a policy field and euroscepticism in many member states can provoke the introduction of other forms of polarity such as flexibility in eu legal rules the study begins with the cases of uk and denmark outlining the way that the mobilization of exclusive national identities raises the demand for differentiation however it continues with the introduction of flexibility in the commission s proposals on the 2020 new pact on migration through the lens of the aggregated level of politicization and the rise of right wing eurosceptic parties in many states of eu while the treaty opt outs have been related with euroscepticism since the maastricht treaty through the polarization provoked by referendums and elections the 2015 refugee crisis resulted in the eu institutions endorsement of flexibility within the dublin system a secondary legal rule this is the first book length study of the reception of valerius flaccus argonautica in the epic poems of silius italicus punica statius thebaid achilleid and claudian de raptu proserpinae it sheds new light on the importance of valerius poem and enhances our understanding of the intertextual richness of imperial latin epic the readings offered in this book provide new evidence to support the view that valerius argonautica predates the punica and thebaid thus helping to clarify the literary history of the flavian period 69 96 ce stover shows how silius statius and claudian use programmatic allusion to the argonautica to present themselves as valerius epic successors silius statius and claudian rework valerian material to achieve various effects analysis of these effects is organized by the primary function of allusive interactions such as reversal enrichment and contrast this study is essential for scholars of latin epic poetry yet the greek and latin of its close readings are translated making it accessible to all readers interested in intertextuality comparative literature and other related topics to presume to multiply books in this day of excellent writers and learned book makers is a rash thing perhaps for a novice it may even be a presumption that shall be met by the production itself being driven from the market by the keen searching criticism of not only the reviewers but less noted objectors and yet there are books that meet a ready sale because they seem like ishmaelites against everybody and everybody against them whether this work shall ever accomplish the design of the author may not at all be determined by its sale while i hope to secure some pecuniary gain that i may accompany it with a companion illustrating what our women have done yet by no means do i send it forth with the sordid idea of gain i would rather it would do some good than make a single dollar and i echo the wish of abou ben adhem in that sweet poem of that name written by leigh hunt the angel was writing at the table in his vision the names of those who love the lord abou wanted to know if his was there and the angel said no said abou i pray thee then write me as one that loves his fellow men that is what i ask to be recorded of me the angel wrote and vanished the next night it came again with a great awakening light and showed the names whom love of god had blessed and lo ben adhem s name led all the rest i desire that the book shall be a help to students male and female in the way of information concerning our great names i have noticed in my long experience as a teacher that many of my students were woefully ignorant of the work of our great colored men even ignorant of their names if they knew their names it was some indefinable something they had done just what they could not tell if in a slight degree i shall here furnish the data for that class of rising men and women i shall feel much pleased herein will be found many who had severe trials in making their way through schools of different grades it is a suitable book it is hoped to be put into the hands of intelligent aspiring young people everywhere that they might see the means and manners of men s elevation and by this be led to undertake the task of going through high schools and colleges if the persons herein mentioned could rise to the exalted stations which they have and do now hold what is there to prevent any young man or woman from achieving greatness many yea nearly all these came from the loins of slave fathers and were the babes of women in bondage and themselves felt the leaden hand of slavery on their own bodies but whether slaves or not they suffered with their brethren because of color that sum of human villainies did not crush out the life and manhood of the race i wish the book to show to the world to our oppressors and even our friends that the negro race is still alive and must possess more intellectual vigor than any other section of the human family or else how could they be crushed as slaves in all these years since 1620 and yet to day stand side by side with the best blood in america in white institutions grappling with abstruse problems in euclid and difficult classics and master them was ever such a thing seen in another people whence these lawyers doctors authors editors divines lecturers linguists scientists college presidents and such in one quarter of a century
