get the summary of madeline pendleton s i survived capitalism and all i got was this lousy t shirt in 20 minutes please note this is a summary not the original book i survived capitalism and all i got was this lousy t shirt is madeline pendleton s memoir chronicling her life from a challenging childhood in fresno california to her struggles and realizations as an adult navigating the capitalist system growing up in a divided city pendleton experienced the stark disparities between the rich and the poor which shaped her understanding of class and money her father s unpredictable lifestyle and her mother s lessons on financial responsibility left her with a complex relationship with money

i know the importance of the individual experience of metastasised melanoma cancer because it is a very special journey people are prone to forget such as when one forgets they have a finger until they hit it people also forget they have a life until it is very seriously threatened the worst sentence in this world that a doctor can pronounce is i am sorry but the medical profession can do nothing further for you this work explores how my wife jeannie who was my home caregiver and i travelled the cancer journey together the journey was not the same for jeannie as it was for me it was my melanoma cancer but i was jeannies husband and therefore the stress was that much more for her as she never knew what further stresses she had to face this book examines the strengths of our relationship despite the difficulties of living on an island it is interesting how we were aware of these difficulties and yet we worked through them then came the details of how the cancer was treated both by conventional and alternative treatment my alternative treatment had a journey all of its own incorporating several people all of whom were heroes in their own right this alternative treatment was later to be regarded as a miracle by several oncologists in a brisbane hospital it is a thoughtful painful and revealing account of the years spent fighting this cancer this book is educative giving a report on melanoma mainly the message it brings is one of hope for those who now have seemingly no hope against melanoma i had three ct scans and a bone scan in may 2012 proving i am still free of melanoma this is not a misery memoir neither is it an i ve got cancer and it s the best thing that s ever happened to me book it is about the daft and sometimes funny things that happen to people living with cancer and useful tips for making the best of it rachel bown is a marketing director and single mother of two who was diagnosed with advanced bowel cancer at the age of 45 with a taboo breaking sense of humour rachel shares her experiences and the lists she made to help gain some control over what quickly became an unpredictable life both funny and poignant she vividly describes her battle with cancer and the often absurd situations she finds herself in from a brutally flippant surgeon to her latest fashion accessory a colostomy bag to embarking on a project to build a 40ft banana giraffe on the roof of her house bowel cancer is the second biggest cancer killer in the uk but there is still a shockingly low level of public awareness about it rachel offers you all the nuggets of information she picked up from hundreds of sources along the way including questions you should ask your surgeon the best treats whilst on chemo things to look out for in a blood test and how not to react when someone tells you they have cancer

i command thee kneel when a history buff reincarnates as the infant emperor carmine he s immediately struck by despair child rulers aren t known for their longevity but as he learns the ins and outs of his new reality s elaborate metaphysics and his corrupt and bloated state apparatus he sets in motion a scheme to purge the rot and woe betide any scheming noble standing between carmine and a functioning government of course he ll have to survive first no easy feat for a child emperor dancing on other men s strings but hey how hard could running an empire be
