This study chronicles the success of the Japanese car in America starting with Japan's first gasoline-powered car, the Takuri. It examines early Japanese inventors and automotive conditions in Japan, the arrival of Japanese cars in California in the late 1950s, consumer and media reactions to Japanese manufacturers, what obstacles they faced, initial sales and how the cars gained popularity through shrewd marketing. Toyota, Honda, Datsun, Nissan, Mazda, Subaru, Isuzu and Mitsubishi are profiled individually from their origins through the present. An examination follows of the forced cooperation between American and Japanese manufacturers, the present state of the industry in America and the possible future of this union. Most importantly, in the race for a more environmentally sound vehicle.
