one striking weaknesses of our financial architecture which helped bring on and perhaps deepen the panic of 2008 is an inadequate appreciation of the past information about how the system functioned and the reliability of organizations and institutional controls were drawn from a relatively narrow group of recent examples history and financial crisis lessons from the 20th century is an attempt to broaden the range of historical sources used by policy makers to understand and treat financial crises many recent discussions of the 2008 panic and the economic turmoil have found the situation to either be unprecedented or greatly similar to that of 1931 however the book s wide range of contributors suggest that the economic crisis of 2008 cannot be categorised in this way this book was originally published as a special issue of business history the book examines the process of symbolic and material alteration of religious images in antiquity the middle ages and the modern period the process by which the form and meaning of images are modified and adapted for a new context is defined by a large number of spiritual religious artistic geographical or historical circumstances this book provides a defined theoretical framework for these symbolic and material alterations based on the concept of iconotropy that is the way in which images change and or alter their meaning iconotropy is a key concept in religious history particularly for periods in which religious changes often turbulent took place in addition the iconotropic process of appropriating cult images brought with it changes in the materiality of those images numerous accounts from antiquity the middle ages and the modern period detail how cult images were involved in such processes of misinterpretation both symbolically and materially the book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual culture and religious history
