the cult classic that predicted the rise of fake news revised and updated for the post trump post gawker age hailed as astonishing and disturbing by the financial times and essential reading by techcrunch at its original publication former american apparel marketing director ryan holiday s first book sounded a prescient alarm about the dangers of fake news it s all the more relevant today trust me i m lying was the first book to blow the lid off the speed and force at which rumors travel online and get traded up the media ecosystem until they become real headlines and generate real responses in the real world the culprit marketers and professional media manipulators encouraged by the toxic economics of the news business whenever you see a malicious online rumor costs a company millions politically motivated fake news driving elections

a product or celebrity zooming from total obscurity to viral sensation or anonymously sourced articles becoming national conversation someone is behind it often someone like ryan holiday as he explains i wrote this book to explain how media manipulators work how to spot their fingerprints how to fight them and how if you must to emulate their tactics why am i giving away these secrets because i m tired of a world where trolls hijack debates marketers help write the news opinion masquerades as fact algorithms drive everything to extremes and no one is accountable for any of it i m pulling back the curtain because it s time the public understands how things really work what you choose to do with this information is up to you suzan lori parks is one of the most important dramatists america has produced tony kushner the plan was that no matter what i did how busy i was what other commitments i had i would write a play a day every single day for a year it would be about being present and being committed to the artistic process every single day regardless of the weather it became a daily meditation a daily prayer celebrating the rich and strange process of a writing life suzan lori parks on november 13 2002 the incomparable suzan lori parks got an idea to write a play every day for a year she began that very day finishing one year later the result is an extraordinary testament to artistic commitment this collection of 365 impeccably crafted pieces each with its own distinctive characters and dramatic power is a complete work by an artist responding to her world each and every day parks is one of the american theater s most wily and innovative writers and her stark but poetic language and fiercely idiosyncratic images transform her work into something haunting and marvelous time
